

POSTAL MONEY ORDERS ISSUED HERE
IN 1923 EXCEEDED $1,000,000Money Orders Approximately $700,000 Were Cashied
—Volume of Money Order Business Year by Year
—1923 Business Record for Local Postoffice

Over 110,000 postal money orders totalling more than one million dollars were issued at the local postoffice during the year 1923, and 65,000 money orders totalling approximately $700,000 were cashied here during the same period, according to figures made public by Postmaster DeWitt today.

This is a record for the local postoffice, said the postmaster, but it is expected that 1924 will even exceed these figures. Year by year the volume of money order business increases as the people of the city realize the advantages of sending money by this method.

The greater part of the money order business, he continued, is in connection with purchases from mail order houses, while another large factor in the business is the fact that married men working out of town send money home to their families by money order.

The amount of money sent from Lowell to foreign countries during the year 1923 totalled $20,000, while orders totalling $4500 which originated in foreign countries were cashied at the local office. These figures, the postmaster said, speak for themselves. Foreign born residents of this city who have families in "the old country" utilize the money order bureau extensively in sending home their earnings for they have great faith in the government and trust it to guarantee safe delivery of their earnings to "the folks" when all other agencies fail.

LUDENDORFF, HITLER AND EIGHT
OTHERS ON TRIAL AT MUNICHFormer Field Marshall and His Associates Arraigned for Part in Attempt to Overthrow German Government Last November

MUNICH, Bavaria, Feb. 25.—(By the Associated Press.) The sensational events of last November, become again a topic of intense public interest today with the opening of the trial of former Field Marshall Ludendorff and his nine associates for their parts in the attempt to overthrow the government.

While provisions for the press have been made in the military academy, where the trial is being held, the most important of the testimony will be taken behind closed doors and the public sittings are not expected to develop much in addition to the facts already published. The proceedings are expected to consume but a few days.

Aside from Ludendorff the defendants are: Adolf Hitler, leader of the "Brown Shirts"; former Police Chief Goebbels; Dr. Frick, ex-president of the Reichstag.

INQUEST ON DEATH OF
GUSTAF A. FORSBERG

About a dozen witnesses were heard this morning at an inquest before Judge Fisher in the court of second sessions on the death of Gustaf A. Forsberg, who was killed in Middlesex street, near Irvington avenue, on the night of Feb. 15 when struck by an automobile alleged to have been driven by Earl Olin Lyneal. The latter is charged with manslaughter, operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, and drunkenness.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Presented with a sheaf of telegrams sent from Washington to Albert B. Fall and Edward R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post at Palm Beach, Fla., the senate oil committee suddenly went into executive session today to examine them.

In ordering the hearing room cleared, Chairman Clegg said that any of the telegrams found to be relevant to the inquiry, would be read in public.

The telegrams were presented by the divisional superintendents of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, and apparently numbered several score. Some of them contained hundreds of words.

McLean's Counsel Present

Wilton J. Lambert, counsel for Mr. McLean, was present at the reopening of public hearings at the invitation of Senator Walsh, who had sought a conference with him. The purpose was not disclosed, but it was stated that the time for the examination of Mr. McLean by the committee still was undetermined.

A subpoena was issued today for G. McLean to appear before the committee.

WILL HOLD CLINICS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Lowell Tuberculosis council will be granted the use of a room at the high school on Saturday morning for the purpose of continuing clinics for children which now are held in the Lowell Guild rooms in Dutton street. The size of the clinic has grown to such an extent that the present quarters are inadequate and upon request of W. N. Goodell, treasurer of the council, the school department will assign a room at the high school for this work.

The clinics are held under the supervision of Miss Nathalie E. Marshall, who is in charge of nutritional work for the council. Money secured from the sale of Christmas seals allows the continuance of these clinics, which are free and open to any under-nourished child. Proper treatment is suggested after examination, and is suggested time the attendance at the clinic numbers about 20 boys and girls.

MATRON OF WOMEN'S PRISON MURDERED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 25.—Miss Louise Richards, 20, matron at the Indiana women's prison here, was found murdered in her room at the institution today. She had been beaten over the head with a blunt instrument and strangled. Search was made for Gladys Ellis, alias Catherine Rabers, a prisoner who escaped during the night.

LITTLE SISTERS OF THE POOR ADMITTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Immigration authorities at Ellis Island today admitted five Little Sisters of the Poor, who were detained yesterday because of the quotas of Finland and Great Britain, their native lands, had been exhausted.

The sisters were paroled under a nominal bond of $250 each, pending an appeal of their case. They proceeded to their destination, the mother house of their order in Brooklyn.

FIRE IN KITCHEN

A quantity of grease on the canopy of a large range on the second floor of the D. L. Page company building in the square caught fire this morning and a telephone alarm was sent in to the central fire station at 9:55 o'clock. Engine 3 responded to the alarm and had the fire under control within a few minutes, although it was not extinguished for nearly half an hour. The damage was not large and was limited to the range and woodwork nearby. Insurance on the property is carried by Fred C. Church.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—President Coolidge prior to today's cabinet meeting had an hour's conference with Paul Howland of Cleveland, who was attorney for Attorney General Daugherty in the House impeachment proceedings of a year ago.

White House and department of justice officials declined to discuss the conference. Attorney General Daugherty on arriving at the executive offices for the cabinet meeting, waved aside a question on the subject.

The conference followed a discussion of similar length late yesterday between the president and attorney general at which they talked over the move by republican senate leaders to bring about Mr. Daugherty's retirement.

Mr. Howland has been in Washington about two weeks.

Immediate consideration of the resolution of Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, for investigation of Atty. Gen. Daugherty's administration was blocked today by Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Moses of New Hampshire.

There were many reports that some development might be announced after the cabinet meeting, but no official word could be obtained.

While the cabinet was meeting, and while the oil committee was in executive session, a senate messenger arrived at the department of justice with a communication for the attorney general. Department officials were secretive regarding the nature of the message, but they considered it urgent enough to forward it immediately to Mr. Daugherty in the cabinet room.

WILL ESTABLISH
SUFFOLK CLUB HERE

Next Saturday evening a banquet and meeting of Suffolk law school students and graduates will be held at the D. L. Page restaurant for the express purpose of leading toward the formation of a Suffolk club in Lowell. It is expected that between 35 and 40 men will attend. The principal speaker will be Dean Gleason L. Archer of the school and he will be accompanied by one or two other faculty members. George B. Murphy will serve as toastmaster and an enjoyable post-prandial program will be arranged.

HEARING ON BROKERS'
BILL POSTPONED

The hearing on the brokers' license bill, scheduled to be held in the state house Thursday morning, has been postponed to Monday, March 10, at 10:30 o'clock. This hearing was originally scheduled for Feb. 18, but was postponed on request of the proponents of the bill to allow him time to present several amendments. The second postponement was brought about for the same purpose, as the amendments are not yet ready to be presented to the legislative committee.

MRS. GILSON STRESSES IMPORTANCE
OF IMMIGRATION QUESTIONSpeaker in Addressing Members of Lowell Guild Says
Immigration Means More to Nation Than Does the Tax Reduction Plan or Bonus Measure

"The immigration question means more to us as a people and more to the United States as a nation, than does the tax reduction plan or the bonus measure," stated Mrs. Claude V. Gilson in the third lecture of her series on current events before the Lowell Guild members in Middlesex hall this morning.

"As you know, there are more than 40 proposals before congress at present to do over the immigration bill. The immigration commission is doing nothing in the way of discussing the matter. Albert Johnson, representative from the state of Washington, has caused quite a stir by presenting his bill for consideration which would regulate the immigration quota on a 3 per cent basis on the census of 1910.

The present immigration law expires in June of this year and whether or not the Johnson bill with amendments will be passed, is unknown.

"Another bill is before congress providing for a 2 per cent basis on the census of 1930. Under this bill, if enacted, immigration will be reduced considerably, the minimum quota per year being 400.

"A bill is before congress providing for the issuance of a certificate of registration at the embarking point which will be good for two months, a sort of insurance as it were, providing for the replacement of an immigrant upon arrival in this country, would save of a great deal of trouble, if not the quota is filled. This is a great step forward and will eliminate much of the rush and trouble at Ellis Island, especially when quotas have been filled. It will eliminate to a great extent the transferring of immigrants from one boat to another, while examinations are in process.

"Another bill provides that naturalized people having resided in this country for a length of time, shall be allowed to bring over husband, wife, mother, father, minor children, nieces and nephews. This would eliminate the separation of families, but there is question as to whether this bill will be recognized.

"Selective immigration is another bill proposed. We must remember, however, that selective immigration would spell uncertainty, difficulty and general unhappiness for us. What too it would charge with sending immigrants to this country, would save, profitably, would perhaps not meet our needs at all.

Speaking of the Japanese immigration, Mrs. Gilson mentioned the fact that we are holding delicate relations with that country and in consequence must deal with the greatest care and precaution in order not to offend Japan.

Mrs. Gilson also spoke upon the English situation, speaking of the success scored by Premier MacDonald in the railroad and dock strikes and mentioning the fact that he is one of the most capable men ever placed in the parliament of England.

MOTOR TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Chamber of Commerce Directors Call Meeting of Retail Merchants

A special meeting of Lowell retail merchants has been called for next Monday evening, March 3, by the directors of Lowell chamber of commerce, to discuss the problem of "No Parking" on certain sections of Merrimack and Central streets and on Prescott street in its entirety.

The meeting will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock, and it is expected that many representative Lowell merchants and others, who occupy places of business and industry of any kind on these three streets in the neighborhood that may be selected for more rigid control of motor traffic in general, will attend the conference and make themselves heard.

The chamber directors were advised today that members of the city government committee on ordinances, Chairman McEadden, will attend the coming hearing in a body. Invitations are going out promptly to all business men who may be interested in a conference that will possibly bring local traffic problems to a head in order that the city government may be enabled to relieve traffic nuisances and jams and regulate the freer movement of non-parking motor cars and other traffic as well as safe-guarding pedestrian traffic in crowded sections of the city.

The suggestions of Police Superintendent Thomas R. Atkinson, recently filed with the chamber of commerce and city authorities, regarding extension of "No Parking" regulations on the three streets above named, will be discussed at the special meeting of Lowell business men on March 3.

The "No parking" regulations would extend from the square district to Dutton; on Central street; to beyond the postoffice on Central street, Towers corner and entirely through Prescott street and all portions of the square, as well as in streets immediately adjacent to the square for consideration of a distance away from the immediate center of the city, where traffic jams day and night are now the rule because of the unrestricted movement or parking of vehicles of all kinds without regard to public safety or the movement of pedestrian traffic.

ASSESSORS' HEARING AT CITY HALL TONIGHT

The board of assessors and Miss Mariette L. McGrath, chief clerk, will attend the public hearing to be given tonight in the council chamber at city hall by the special committee on investigation, Councillor Cosgrove, chairman.

One of the chief speakers will be Smith J. Adams, who plans a caustic attack upon alleged manifestations of excessive rent. As the hearing will be public, any owner or tenant in the city interested in the general subject of assessing is privileged to attend.

ARRESTED ON FRAUD CHARGE
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Sigmund Levy, salesman, was arrested today on a warrant charging fraud in stock transactions in Boston. With others he is charged with having defrauded James R. Throol of cash and stocks totalling $11,000.

Two other arrests have been made in connection with the same case. Three persons still are wanted by the police.

PLANS IN COUNCIL CHAMBER

Two silk American flags have been purchased by City Messenger Owen Monahan, and now hang from the post standards on either end of the president's desk in the city council chamber at city hall. The flags were suggested by Lowell post, American Legion and purchased on motion of Councillor Daniel Cosgrove.

Six Guards of Detectives Seek Five Bandits Who Carried Off Safe With $15,000

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Six squads of detectives armed with rifles and shotguns sped to the southwestern city limits today in search of five bandits reported to have broken into the State Bank of Kingsman, in Grundy county and to have hauled away a safe containing more than $15,000.

The report of the robbery was given the Chicago police by Sheriff James Black of Grundy county, who said he had pursued the bandits several miles. The safe he said, is four feet high and weighs 2500 pounds.

LOOKS LIKE SHAKEUP IN THE LIQUOR SQUAD

Councillor Daniel F. Moriarty has not dropped his investigation of the action of the liquor squad of the police department in entering the home of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Moriarty, 311 Lawrence street, last Saturday night, and conducting a fruitless search for liquor.

The councillor said today the matter rests entirely in the hands of Police Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson, although he added that with his counsel, Daniel J. Murphy, he will meet the chief in conference late this afternoon.

The feeling grows that the outcome of the matter will be a shake-up of some sort in the liquor squad, just to what extent is not known.

Since the so-called raid Capt. Palmer, at the head of the squad, has said on several occasions that he asked for relief from the squad some time ago and would accept it at any time.

JEWIS MAKE PROTEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A delegation of the Associated Jewish societies of Massachusetts today laid a protest against the Johnson immigration bill before the senate and house immigration committees. They said that under the quota plan Jewish immigrants are grouped with nationalities which have low percentages of naturalization, and suggested instead that quotas be computed upon the racial ratios of the American army in the World war.

MICHAEL E. CARKILL DEAD

Well Known Lowell Man
Passed Away Last Night
After Brief Illness

Michael E. Carkill, a life long resident of this city, died last night at his home, 38 June street, aged 68 years. Mr. Carkill had been employed in the Hamilton Mfg. company for the past 47 years, serving the greater part of that time as overseer of the roll shop. Last Wednesday he was stricken with a sudden attack of indigestion and remained at home, returning to work Thursday. Again yesterday he was compelled to remain at home because of a similar attack and passed away shortly before midnight.

In the many years of his employment at the Hamilton mills, Mr. Carkill had made many friends, to whom the news of his death comes as a distinct shock as he appeared to be in the best of health up to a few days ago. In the Centralville section of the city, where he had lived for many years, he was also well known and respected, and was an attendant of St. Michael's church.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Carkill, and two sisters, Katherine and Barbara. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

DEATHS

AYOTTE—Mrs. Virginia (Pleureux) Ayotte, widow of Joseph Ayotte, and a resident of Lowell for the past 34 years, died last evening at the home of her son, Alfred Ayotte, 125 Fayette street, aged 66 years. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Paradis; three sons, Arthur, Bruno and Alfred Ayotte, all of this city; three sisters, Mrs. Dominique Harvey, Mrs. Lamine Gagnon and Mrs. Xavier Veillette; and two brothers, Philippe and Hubert Pleureux, all of Canada. The body was removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Paradis, 320 Lawrence street, by Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

COULLIARD—E. Edwin Coulliard died suddenly yesterday at his home, 93 Clark street, Braintree, aged 73 years, 4 months and 2 days. He is survived by his wife, Laura A. Coulliard, one daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Call of Beverly, two sisters, Mrs. Walter G. Hunt of Lowell and Mrs. Nellie G. Genter of Clinton, Me., and one brother, Charles Coulliard of Maine.

FUNERALS

NEHAN—The funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Nehan took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 116 Agawam street, and was largely attended by friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. William Kirwin, O.M.I., assistant pastor. Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Barry, O.M.I., as sub deacon. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., and Rev. William Mahan, O.M.I. The sanctuary choir under the direction of Mr. Raymond Kelly sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by James McMahon and Miss Veronica Barr. At the offertory Miss Sadie Kennedy sang "Pie Jesu" and after the elevation Mrs. Stephen Garrity rendered "O Meritum Paschalis." Timothy Finnegan sang "Domine Deus Christus" and Charles Peaton sang the Sanctus. Mr. Raymond Kelly presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral and many spiritual offerings. The bearers were Messrs. Benjamin Wilson, James O'Connor, Fred Wilson and C. Frank O'Neill. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Kirwin, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

DEFFY—With solemn military honors the body of Sallor Daniel Deffy was this morning laid at rest in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral cortege left the home of his mother Mrs. Julia Deffy White, 25 Nelson street, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends including delegations from the following veterans' organizations: Disabled Army Veterans of the World War, Lowell Navy club and city officials. At St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John M. Manion. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and James E. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral and a large number of spiritual offerings. The bearers were Comrade Mayor John J. Donovan, Ident. Harry P. Sullivan, Forrest A. Rogers, Edward H. Sullivan, Joseph Coughlin and Harold O'Brien. The firing squad furnished by the Lowell Navy club: George Allard, Arthur Moran, Arthur Gagnon, John Crahan, Thomas White, George Flory and Richard Curley fired three volleys over the grave and taps was sounded by Bugler Comrade Coffin. The committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Manion. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

Meet Behind Closed Doors

D. Wahlberg, former private secretary to Harry F. Sinclair, who will be questioned as to the identity of "Mr. Hayes" to whom he has testified he delivered $25,000 in Liberty bonds. At the time of his testimony committee men thought the reference was to an employee of Sinclair, but since then there have been reports that it was another "Mr. Hayes."

Not to Summon Hays

In this connection, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, announced today there was no present intention of summoning Will H. Hays, former postmaster general. Senator Walsh also said he did not plan now to summon Atty. Gen. Daugherty for questioning yesterday. His statement in his letter yesterday to Senator Willis, republican, Ohio, that he had dealt in Sinclair oil stocks after the leasing of tea not done to Sinclair. Chairman Lenroot said in any event, Mr. Daugherty would not be called until after expert accountants had finished their examination of broker's books showing these transactions. H. P. Taff, Washington superintendent for the Western Union Co., was called as the first witness when today's hearing began. Senator Walsh took the records of telegrams submitted by the witness while Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, read them over his associate's shoulder. Chairman Lenroot went into a whispered conference that followed over the messages and then announced the decision to convene an executive session.

To Eliminate Irrelevant Messages
"The committee desires to find which of these messages are relevant," the chairman explained. "The others will be eliminated and those of importance in this inquiry will be read."

Thomas P. Dawd, manager of the Postal company, likewise produced some messages which were taken into the executive session.

The purpose of examining the telegrams was to determine whether any individual members of the oil committee or administration officers had communication on the oil matter with Fall and McLean while they were at the Florida resort, or with the former secretary during his stay in New Orleans, just before he came to Washington, in response to the summons of the committee.

Later the committee will examine long distance telephone records for a similar purpose. Subpoenas for these records have been issued, but it will require a day or two to compile them for presentation.

After remaining behind closed doors for nearly two hours, the committee adjourned until tomorrow. It was explained that examination of the telegrams had not been completed.

Chairman Lenroot said some of the messages would be placed in the records at a public session tomorrow. Senator Adams, democrat, Colorado, said thus far the committee had found no telegrams sent by individual committee men to either Fall or McLean.

Admits Dealing in Oil Stock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The maneuver in the light on Atty. Gen. Daugherty continued in the senate today while the oil committee pressed further in its effort to determine whether government officials or committee members communicated with Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, or Albert B. Fall in the south between Dec. 20, 1923, and Jan. 20, 1924.

The committee opened its inquiry into the Fall-McLean incident yesterday with its examination of Mr. McLean's Washington bankers and C. Dasecom Stemp, secretary to President Coolidge.

BLAME INFORMER FOR TALKED ON QUESTION OF FRUITLESS RAIDS OUR FOOD SUPPLY

Over a score of fruitless raids, made on warrants issued here by United States Commissioner Walsh, were conducted by federal agents in the vicinity of Greenfield and Lynn last week. This developed yesterday in the trial of George J. Grant, of Lynn, an aid of the fact that information on which the warrants were drawn were furnished by a professional informer, owing to the inability of the government to produce the informer, said to be Joseph Kaminski and in the employ of the Anti-Saloon League, the case before United States Commissioner Hayes yesterday was given a brief continuance.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The regular meeting of Princess Lodge, I.O.O.F. of St. George, was held last night in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, with President Susanah Watson in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted and it was voted to transfer the lodge quarters to Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, the first meeting to be held there March 25.

The twentieth anniversary of General Adelbert Ames' camp auxiliary was celebrated last night at a meeting in Memorial hall, which were present in addition to members of the auxiliary, members of Gen. Ames' camp and several other veterans' organizations. At 6 o'clock an excellent chicken supper was served, following which an informal program of addresses and entertainment was carried out. Many visitors were called upon to address the gathering and expressed their appreciation of the hospitality of the auxiliary and wished it great success in the future.

A regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames' camp was held last night following the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the camp's auxiliary. Commander John P. McBride presided and considerable routine business was transacted.

MISS MURPHY HONORED

Miss Anastasia Murphy, of 34 White street, a popular telephone operator who is about to leave the city for College Point, L. I., where she is to accept a new position, was last evening presented a silk umbrella by her friends as a token of their esteem. Mr. Charles J. Keyes made the presentation on behalf of those present. A musical program was carried out during the evening following a dinner at Marie's restaurant.

JAPAN BIDDING FOR PACIFIC SHIPMENTS

Japan is bidding for trans-Pacific shipments of goods via the colored poster method advertising Japanese-built-and-owned steamship lines as ready to provide prompt and direct service from American ports to the Orient.

A strikingly designed poster, about four feet long and 18 inches wide, now hanging in the display room of the Lowell chamber of commerce headquarters, contains a curious drawing of made leaves, blue islands and what looks to be orange-colored ocean water. A large curved mass decorated with weird figures tops the Japanese shipping advertising placard, giving it the true "Jap touch" and glamor peculiar to attractive Japanese advertising literature of modern times.

The impressive poster is printed wholly in English, however, and is clever and well-executed piece of the printer's art from top to bottom, with display type modern and neatly distributed to catch the eye. The rainbow colors used in effective offsetting and the disposals of exotic color shadings, lines and stripes are made in such a way by the delineating artist that full harmonious results are obtained notwithstanding the somewhat spectacular splashing effect as a whole.

The advertising matter comes to Lowell chamber of commerce with the gracious concession of the high general manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamship line—a powerful Pacific traffic-carrying organization with 120 vessels of 500,000 gross tons burden.

The Nippon line is now running charter vessels directly from Japanese ports to all North and South American ports, and also to ports in Australia and Indo-China. The sailings from Trieste to Yokohama are almost daily.

The Nippon would, of course, be grateful for any shipments of goods from Lowell, good sir.

The remarkable jump upward and the increase of Japanese shipping on the waters of the Pacific, has been giving American shipping interests, as well as American industries, something to think about for many months.

The fact that the Japanese are on the road to monopolizing the shipping routes between American ports and the Orient, shows how alert the Japs are today, with an advance across the line from the bounds of island exclusiveness and cramped trading confines to the length and breadth of the wide world in an apparent effort to capture at least the cream of the world's trade as well as the popular trading channels.

have not been pleased with the manner in which prohibition has been enforced, or has failed to be enforced, will give their support to the resolution.

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, chairman of the committee on judiciary, said that if the resolution should be adopted an investigation of the enforcement of prohibition all over the United States would be an unending task.

Some senators take the position that the senate would not be so active in an investigation of the shooting of Senator Greene as would the district attorney's office, charged already with that duty.

URGES SWEEPING "DRY" INQUIRY IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—An investigation of the shooting of Senator Frank L. Greene of Vermont during a battle between prohibition agents and alleged bootleggers is proposed in a resolution introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Edwards of New Jersey. The investigation would be made by the senate judiciary committee.

The resolution provides further for a searching investigation into the operation of the entire national prohibition department of the government.

The shooting which resulted in the serious injury of Senator Greene, Senator Edwards declared in his resolution, "marked the culmination of a long series of domineering, arbitrary, criminally reckless and brutal action on the part of the representatives of the national prohibition department."

Senator Edwards asked that his resolution lie on the table, and gave notice that he would address the senate on it Wednesday.

While the senate may adopt a resolution for an inquiry into the shooting of Senator Greene, it was predicted by "dry" senators last night that the resolution would never be adopted in the form presented by Senator Edwards. The preamble criticizing the prohibition enforcement unit would have to be cut out, they indicated. Senator Willis of Ohio took this position, as did others.

The resolution is expected to lead to considerable debate in the senate. Senator Edwards, who as governor of New Jersey declared that he proposed to make that state as "wet as the Atlantic Ocean," will strongly urge its adoption, and other senators who

How to Banish
Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Secret Beauty

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

The Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause. Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, Green's Drug Store and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.—Adv.

GIFT TAX PROVISION IN REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The house took up the proposal to insert a gift tax provision in the revenue bill today, with democrats and the republican insurgents confident of repeating their success of yesterday, when they brought about increases in the estate or inheritance taxes.

Chairman Green of the ways and means committee, who introduced the gift tax proposal yesterday, announced later that he would offer an amendment to make the rates the same as carried for the estate tax and Representative Garner, Texas, leader of the democratic tax fight, said he would support the new proposal.

Mr. Green's first gift tax amendment provides for a one per cent tax on amounts of all gifts in excess of $10,000 annually, with a graduated scale up to 10 per cent on amounts of $16,000 annually, while the estate tax rates adopted yesterday provide for a one per cent tax on amounts not in excess of $50,000 with a graduated scale up to 10 per cent on amounts in excess of $10,000.

The same exemptions allowed under the estate tax would apply to the gift tax, under the amendment, and the tax would apply to the total amount of gifts made by one person in a year, rather than to each gift separately. With the exception of the section, next in order after disposal of the gifts amendments, Representative Langworth, republican, floor leader, said he hoped for a final vote on the measure by Friday.

TREMONT & SUFFOLK
MEETING CHANGED

Frederick Ayer, president of the Tremont & Suffolk, has wired address to a number of stockholders that the annual meeting of the corporation has been postponed from March 3 to April 2. It is proposed by this committee to increase the directorate of the corporation by three more members.

GEORGE R. CHESTER,
AUTHOR, DEAD

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—George Randolph Chester, author and playwright, died early today.

Mr. Chester left his Ohio home at an early age and engaged in various occupations. Beginning newspaper work as a reporter on the Detroit News he rose to become one of the nation's most popular writers of fiction. "Get-Rich-Quick" Wallingford and "Blackie Daw" were two of his most famous fictional characters. He wrote a number of books and plays in collaboration with his wife, Lillian Chester. Mr. Chester was 45 years old.

Mr. Chester and his wife worked late last night on the new story. Shortly after midnight, he complained of pains in his chest and Mrs. Chester applied hot towels. But the hot applications failed to relieve him and he took a hot bath and retired, joking with Mrs. Chester about his pains. Shortly before 5 o'clock this morning Mr. Chester sat up in his bed, spoke to his wife and fell back upon his pillow. His wife did not think him dead, and attempted to revive him. Finally, she called the superintendent of the apartment house, James Schultz, and he summoned an ambulance. Mr. Chester died of a heart attack.

VETERAN INDIANS
STAND CONVICTED

MONTREAL, Feb. 25.—Joseph Beaurais, eighty years old and Angus Montau, seventy, Indians from the Iroquois reservation at Caughnawaga, convicted of stealing a historical wampum belt from the Iroquois tribe, for the crime when they appeared to a higher court.

According to Iroquois tradition, the belt was given to the Iroquois by the Hurons in 1667, as a peace offering and as a pledge that the then existing treaty between the two tribes should not be broken. Convicted and sentenced to the jail of the wampum at from $20,000 to $25,000.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Marion L. Hodgman, a former resident of this city, and now of New Bedford, was on Thursday afternoon united in marriage to Mr. Philip L. Taber of the latter city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church of New Bedford, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Ruth Hodgman and Mr. James R. Hodgman attended the couple. The bride wore a gown of brown satin with hat to match and carried Ward roses. The bridesmaid wore brown Canton crepe with hat to match. Following the ceremony an informal reception was tendered to the couple after which they left on an extended honeymoon trip.

Callan-Hemenway
Rev. John J. Callan, rector of St. Andrew's church, Wellesley, and Miss Mary Hemenway were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the Emmanuel church, Boston, by Bishop Charles T. Shattuck and Rev. E. Wood Worcester. The couple will make their home in Wellesley.

Mahoney-Hooney
Mr. Everett M. Mahoney of North Billerica and Miss G. Myrtle Hooney were united in the bonds of matrimony at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Margaret's rectory. Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Quinn, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple. Upon their return from an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney will make their home in Tremont avenue, North Billerica.

Cole-LaFortune
Mr. William Cole and Miss Helene LaFortune, two well known residents of Pawtucketville, were united in the bonds of marriage yesterday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Joseph A. Griffin, O.M.I., officiated. Mr. Stanislaus LaFortune and Mr. Maxine Cole, fathers of the bride and bridegroom respectively attended the couple. The bride wore a gown of white with hat to match and carried white roses. Following the ceremony a reception and breakfast were tendered to the couple at the home of the bride's parents in Moody street. After an extended trip to Washington, D.C., and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cole will make their home at 29 Crawford street.

APPEAL OF RUSSIAN
DESPERADO DENIED

HARRIN, Manchuria, Feb. 25.—(By the Associated Press) A Chinese court today denied the appeal of Alexis Korniloff, Russian desperado, and reaffirmed the death sentence passed last November. Korniloff was the first white man ever sentenced to death in a Chinese court.

Fears that Korniloff would attempt to escape or that his friends would try to rescue him, caused the authorities to take extra precautions when he was brought into court today. He was chained hand and foot.

The court informed the defendant that his only recourse was an appeal to the senate at Peking. This appeal must be made within 10 days. Korniloff was convicted of escaping from the courtroom during a previous trial, slaying a Chinese constable and two secret service agents and attempting the murder of two other police officials.

Bronchitis
Best Treated
With Vapors

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

If a cold has been neglected and has gone down into the chest, producing acute bronchitis, thoroughly reddened the skin over throat and chest with hot, wet towels to open the pores. Then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

For hours after Vicks is applied the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc., are inhaled directly into the infected air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Being externally applied, Vicks is especially good for children and is free from millions of mothers to prevent or relieve cold troubles.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made
Here's an easy way to make it, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heats the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" in directions. And don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HUSBAND IS DETAINED
Singer Prefers Russia and Rags With Husband to Affluence Without Him

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Russia and rags with her husband is preferable to America and affluence without him, Mme. Vera Lavrova, Russian singer, declared today. She was told she could enter the United States as an artist, but that her war-maimed and impoverished husband, Baron Royce Garrett, would be detained pending the report of a special board of inquiry.

The couple arrived yesterday on the Antonia of the Cunard line from South Africa, where the concert business barely enabled them to book third class passage to the United States.

Before the war, the name Royce Garrett was said to be synonymous in Russia with wealth, position and power. The baron claims to be a descendant from an English ancestor who went to Russia in the days of Peter the Great and was elevated to the nobility by that monarch. While fighting with the White army, he lost position, wealth and his left leg.

Mme. Lavrova is the daughter of a great opera singer and a member of the first drama of 1905. She is young—in her early twenties, slight, and blonde. Her English is somewhat better than that of her husband. They are now at Ellis island, although Mme. Lavrova is at liberty to go where she pleases.

"We shall wait here," she said, "whatever we do, we shall do it together."

REED ASSAILS M'ADOO

Says Doheny and Morse Employed Him Because of His Political Influence

Discusses Oil Leases—Says $100,000 Was the Price of Fall's Soul

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26.—James A. Reed, United States senator and candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency, contesting with W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, for the Missouri delegation to the democratic national convention, declared in his keynote campaign speech here last night that Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate and Charles W. Morse, shipbuilder and financier, employed McAdoo when he left Wilson's cabinet for his political influence with the democratic national administration and not for his legal ability.

Speaking with bitterness, Senator Reed charged that McAdoo and the members of his law firm were to receive more than $100,000 in fees from oil interests, Morse interests and the motion picture industry, although McAdoo, "did not appear in a single lawsuit."

Referring to the oil inquiry disclosures, Senator Reed said that "I unhesitatingly express the opinion that not one-tenth of the corruption and intimacy which has existed is yet laid bare. When the whole foul mess is known, the American people will be convinced of the supreme necessity of purging the government and driving pure power every tainted man."

He referred to the resignation of A. B. Fall as United States senator and his appointment as secretary of the interior, charging that:

"Albert B. Fall prepared the transfer of oil lands from the naval to the interior department; $100,000 was the price of Fall's soul."

Senator Reed voiced opposition to the Mellon tax plan and attacked commun-

Attacks Prohibition Record of Alabama Senator—Urges Musgrave for President

Says Latter is Well-to-do Man Who Would Spend Wealth for the Masses

DECATUR, Ala., Feb. 26.—In attacking the prohibition record of Senator Oscar Underwood in an address here last night, William Jennings Bryan said he would rather trust Governor Al. Smith in the White house than Underwood. He characterized Smith as a "wet" in a wet environment and a "dry" in a dry environment.

The campaigner declared that now is the time for the democrats to nominate a progressive. He praised L. B. Musgrave, opponent of Underwood in the Alabama presidential primary, as a "well-to-do man who would spend his wealth for the masses."

Warren G. Harding Court No. 1, Order of the Amaranth was formally constituted Saturday evening at Colonial hall, Palmer street. Mrs. Nellie McCall, supreme royal matron of St. Paul, Minnesota, and Mrs. Anna M. Shipman of West Orange, N. J., were present at the constitution.

The court has a charter membership of 110 and over 50 have been elected to membership. A banquet was served by the Page Catering company at 6 o'clock which was attended by members of the new court and guests from Laurel court, Springfield, Georgia; court, Malden, Massachusetts; court, Dorchester; and Sterling court, Quincy.

The affair was arranged by Mrs. Emma Folsom of Roslindale, deputy supreme royal matron of Massachusetts. The installation of officers was in charge of Robert L. Day, past supreme associate patron, who officiated as deputy supreme royal patron; and Byron P. Miller of Quincy, deputy supreme royal patron of this state, who were assisted by Edith Christopher, royal matron of Everett court and Charles Brown of Sterling court, as supreme marshals.

The installation ceremony was brought to a close with the crowning of the royal matron, Alice R. Long, by Miss Florence Wade, royal matron of Gloria court.

The order of the Amaranth is open to all master masons, their wives, daughters, mothers, widows and sisters.

The officers installed Saturday follow: Alice R. Long, royal matron; Charles E. Stankov, royal patron; Alice L. Gore, associate matron; A. Victor Second, associate patron; W. Ellsworth Sargent, secretary; Mabel P. Fraser, treasurer; Jennie B. Gourley, conductress; Ma D. Stanley, associate conductress; Nettie M. Roberts, marshal in east; Louisa E. Hale, marshal in west; Sarah K. Monney, prelate; Lavinia Howe, historian; J. Edw. Leith, musician; Jesse Allen, truth; Cecil Manning, faith; Lillian Allister, wisdom; Augusta S. Leach, charity; David C. Sennett, order; Arthur Wakon, sentinel; Ada Riley, chairman of trustees; Bertha D. Fraser and David Dickson, trustees.

HONDURAN REBELS CAPTURE COMAYAGUS

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Feb. 26.—The Honduran rebels commanded by General Gregorio Ferrera, supporter of the presidential aspirations of Dr. Policarpo Bonilla, have captured Comayagua, 40 miles northwest of Tegucigalpa, the capital, according to advices received here. The rebels are preparing to advance on the capital, where they claim the government forces are in a state of demoralization.

The occupation of other important towns is reported by the rebels.

SALVATION ARMY

There will be a meeting of the Women's Home league of the Salvation Army at their hall on Appleton street, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, when they will make over garments to be used amongst the poor people of Lowell.

sions, bureaus and lobbyists which, he said, infect Washington. He advocated the passage of the ones bill and argued that there could be both the bonus and tax reduction.

His speech was the first of a series which he will give throughout Massachusetts.

LIFETIME OF PAIN AND MISERY SAVED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

People in Portland Proud to Recommend the Fruit Medicine

"Fruit-a-tives" must be different from ordinary remedies, when these tablets are able to save thousands of people from pain and misery and restore them to health and happiness.

"Fruit-a-tives" ARE different. They are made from fruit juices—the concentrated juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes combined with tonics, and made more active medicinally by the wonderful process of combining the intensified juices.

No ordinary remedy gave relief to Mr. Otis M. Bryant of 43 Anderson Street, Portland, Maine.

He says, "I was troubled with constipation ever since I can remember; as a result, I suffered from distressing headaches and pain in my left side. I tried many remedies for constipation but without permanent relief.

About four months ago, I began the use of "Fruit-a-tives" and since then, I have been free of headaches, my bowels have been regular, and after the use of several boxes of "Fruit-a-tives", I feel justified in pronouncing them a remedy of true and exceptional merit."

Take Mr. Bryant's advice—try "Fruit-a-tives" for any Stomach, Liver, Bowel or Kidney Trouble. They will help you.

25c and 50c a box—at dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, New York.

TWO MEN SOUGHT FOR DOUBLE MURDER

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—William Engelke of Chicago and James Zollers, of Zollers, of Columbus, Ohio, are the subjects of police search in connection with the killings here of John Duffy and his wife, Leah Maybelle Bailey Duffy, whose bodies were found Friday.

Engelke has been named as an associate in illegal operations of Duffy and Orlando "Jack" Horton, now in custody in New Orleans, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Curtis, Zollers, according to Ruby Downing of Louisville, Ky., is a former suitor of Mrs. Duffy and might have been actuated by jealousy. Zollers was seen in Columbus last Wednesday, according to reports from authorities there.

Warrents charging the Horton and Curtis couples with being accessories to the double slaying were sworn out last night and will be taken by two officers leaving today for New Orleans to bring the four back to Chicago for trial. The four are understood to have waived extradition.

MAN AT LIBERTY ON BAIL KILLS HIMSELF

SPRINGFIELD, Va., Feb. 26.—Morton Griffin, of Pike, N. H., shot and killed himself with an army rifle at the home of Ludwig Link here, today. Griffin, who formerly lived in Randolph, was at liberty on $2000 bonds furnished after he had pleaded guilty in the municipal court yesterday to a charge of assault on his wife's 12-year-old sister, Helen Murray of Ludlow.

Griffin and his wife spent last night at Link's home. After Link had gone to his work this morning, Mrs. Link and Mrs. Griffin heard a shot and shortly afterward, Griffin was found dead in the cellar.

125,000 INDIANS MAY BECOME CITIZENS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Estimates that 125,000 Indians upon application may become American citizens, without forfeiting any of their tribal rights, were made today by the Indian office in a report on the Snyder bill, recently reported favorably by the house committee on Indian affairs. Two-thirds of the country's Indian population now enjoy American citizenship.

"LITTLE LEVI"

Model of Leviathan Turned Over to Smithsonian Institute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—"Little Levi," a complete model of the liner Leviathan, seized during the war at the Hamburg American offices in New York and later loaned to the United States times and shipping board for exhibition purposes, has been turned over to the Smithsonian institute by the alien property custodian.

The model, which for several months has been at the shipping board's offices here, is a perfect miniature of the liner, even down to the electric lighting system. It is 18½ feet long, with 23½ inch beam and 5 feet, 10 inches depth from keel to the top of her funnels.

STORM WARNING BY WEATHER BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory storm warning: Southeast storm warning order Florida coast between Jacksonville and Cedar Keys, 9:30 a.m., and northeast storm warnings north of Virginia Capes to Boston, 10 a.m., storm of marked intensity central immediately south of Alabama coast, will move northeastward with a further increase in intensity. This will probably be a severe storm along the entire Atlantic seaboard."

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF FINANCING QUESTIONED

MANILA, Feb. 26.—Questioning the constitutionality of financing the Philippine independence commission with continuous appropriations by the legislature, Senator Wright has declined to authorize the release of funds for payment of hundreds of vouchers payable to senators, representatives and others connected with the commission.

The senator's decision probably will affect the entire of the proposed independence mission to the United States.

MAX LINDER AND WIFE RECOVERING

PARIS, Feb. 26.—Max Linder, motion picture comedian, and his wife, are reported to be fully convalescing in Vienna, after their severe illness caused by an overdose of sleeping powders, according to a despatch to Comedie, a newspaper devoted exclusively to the affairs of the stage.

INTER-ALLIED MILITARY CONTROL MISSION

PARIS, Feb. 26. (By the Associated Press).—A note from Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, to the allied council of ambassadors regarding the resumption of work by the inter-allied military control mission in Germany, which was received yesterday, has been referred to the inter-allied advisory military committee presided over by Marshal Foch, for advice.

The note is understood to put the question on a basis that will permit a final solution, with all the allies united behind a determined effort to see that Germany ceases her warlike preparations. It also he actually engaged in them, as persistently alleged in allied circles.

HER CONDITION

One day I read in a newspaper of a case that exactly described my condition and recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I tried the pills and after the second box I noticed an increased appetite and I felt stronger. I did not tire so easily, had more ambition and my color was better. I continued the treatment and got so that I had a hearty appetite, my nerves were strong and I slept well.

Mrs. Mayer Recognized Characteristic Symptoms of Anemia in Reading About Case of Another

"My trouble was pronounced anemia, or lack of blood," says Mrs. Beatrice Mayer, of 129 Florence street, Springfield, Mass., "and after long treatment I was no better. I was (thoroughly) tired out, my complexion was sallow and I kept losing my appetite until I ate almost nothing. I suffered a lot from headaches, my sleep did me no good and at times I was extremely nervous."

"One day I read in a newspaper of a case that exactly described my condition and recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I tried the pills and after the second box I noticed an increased appetite and I felt stronger. I did not tire so easily, had more ambition and my color was better. I continued the treatment and got so that I had a hearty appetite, my nerves were strong and I slept well."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable tonic to build up the blood. Last winter I had a slight attack of grip and I used the pills again. I recovered my strength quickly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A valuable booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free upon request.—Adv.

Meet Behind Closed Doors

who went to Palm Beach, while Fall and McLean were both there, just prior to the trip of Senator Walsh, democratic, Montana, to take the publisher's testimony about the $100,000 he previously had said he loaned to the former interior secretary.

Mr. Stamp said he had no purpose on his visit to the Florida resort, other than rest and recreation, and the committee today called officials of the telephone and telephone companies to present records of messages sent to Fall or McLean at Palm Beach, or to Fall at New Orleans.

The committee also had an opportunity today to see the correspondence relating to all matters which it was informed some time ago, was in possession of Karl C. Schuyler, Denver attorney, who was counsel for J. Leo Stack, claimant to rights in Tea Pot Dome that were purchased by Harry F. Sinclair. Schuyler arrived yesterday with his evidence which had been described as sensational.

The resolution for an investigation of Atty. Gen. Daugherty's administration was in the same parliamentary situation in the senate today that it was yesterday and under the rules it could not be considered until tomorrow, except by unanimous consent.

Senator Willis, Ohio, republican, objected to its immediate consideration yesterday, when unanimous consent was asked by Senator Wheeler, democratic, Montana, who introduced the measure, and he was understood to be prepared to make the same move today unless an agreement was reached between senate leaders on its disputed provision carrying the names of the special investigating committee.

Daugherty in an open letter addressed to Senator Willis which was published today, offered "every facility" which the department of justice affords to any investigating committee.

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR

Found Strength by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and then the change of life it did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a week and a half. It has strengthened me and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I have the opportunity. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose."

Mrs. HARRY COULOM, 984 North Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit

For the relief of female weakness, pains and backache, nervousness and irregularities, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine.

Its worth is thoroughly established by such letters as the above. There are women everywhere who, having received benefit, gladly tell other women about it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, you can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyn's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyn's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.—Adv.

appointed under the resolution, and urged that the inquiry be conducted and completed as promptly as that thoroughness will permit. He also asked authority to be represented by counsel, who would be permitted to question and summon witnesses in his behalf.

The attorney general acknowledged in the letter that he had dealt in Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co. stock, and that he had been in the company before and after he entered the cabinet, but that he had "never acted upon any information received, as attorney general, which resulted in any personal profit." He sold out all his holdings in the company last fall, at a loss to him of $28 per share.

With respect to the reference in his resolution to his "failure to arrest and prosecute Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, E. L. Doheny, Charles E. Forbes and their alleged co-conspirators," he recalled that he had requested President Coolidge to relieve him of the responsibility for prosecuting the oil cases because of his association in the cabinet with the former interior secretary. He also called attention that he had appointed John W. H. Crim, former assistant attorney general, to institute proceedings against Forbes before a special grand jury at Chicago, and named Davis Arnold, who helped with the legal work of the veterans' bureau, investigating committee as one of his assistants.

Pinchot Discovers Leases
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Former Secretary Fall of the interior department with the consent of President Harding, planned to have the national forests of the United States turned over to the department of the interior, as were the naval oil reserves, Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania declared in an address last night before the Survey Association. Mr. Harding, he declared, "thought it wrong for the former chief forester to oppose Fall's plans."

The conservation policy of President Roosevelt was his greatest contribution to the safety and welfare of the American people, according to the Pennsylvania executive. Those who had attempted to sweep this policy, he said, had met with the "universal exclamation of the people."

Referring to the leasing of the navy oil reserves, Mr. Pinchot said that it was of primary importance that they be recovered by the navy, no matter what the result of the present investigation may be as to the fate of "delinquent individuals."

"However pleasant it would be to see certain men in jail—and to none pleasant but to me," he said, "and to see them there and let the grabbers keep the navy's oil would mean utter failure."

Years of Suffering From Constipation, Stomach and Kidneys Relieved by Drecto

Mr. Stephen H. Lincoln of Bedford, Mass., says:

"I suffered so intensely from pain that sometimes I thought I would go mad. I grew thin and pale. My cheeks were sunken and black rings were deep under my eyes. I was always tired and nervous. So nervous that the least noise would make me jump. My kidneys were in such a bad shape that I couldn't sleep. And every time I moved, pains shot through my back like red hot iron. My liver was sluggish and my system overrun by constipation was weak and the least bit of exertion wore me out."

"As I grew worse my stomach began to bother me. I couldn't eat anything that would digest properly. Gas formed on my stomach, bloated me and making me hunch. I worried about my condition. And the more medicine I took the more I worried because none of them seemed to relieve me."

"But Drecto more than came up to expectations. This great remedy made a new person of me. I feel healthy for the first time in a long time. I eat everything without a bit trouble afterwards, sleep fine, and not a sign of nervous. And what this medicine has done for me it can do for every other man or woman suffering as I did."

Drecto is made from the pure, unadulterated juices of 12 remarkable plants, roots, herbs and leaves. Scientifically blended by the David H. Pulton Co.'s laboratories of Baltimore, they act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, and tend to relieve constipation, headache, rheumatism, catarrh, bloodlessness, dizzy spells, heart fluttering, gas on stomach and other troubles.

Drecto is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

OUR STREET RECONSTRUCTION

A traffic jam such as was witnessed around the Memorial Auditorium last Friday night, is but what may be expected on all similar occasions, unless strict regulations be made by the police to prevent the congestion. Such regulations will naturally prove inconvenient to many, but under present conditions they must be tolerated until relief of a different kind be provided.

As we have repeatedly stated, real relief can come only from the construction of a new street, a street of from 60 to 100 feet wide as proposed by the Planning Board. That would offer an outlet for the autos and doubtless also considerable parking space. The time will come when East Merrimack street will have to be widened; but the new street proposed over the Concord must come as the first step toward effective relief. Meantime the police will have to devise ways and means of handling the traffic so as to prevent a repetition of the congestion that was so provoking last Friday night. The down town streets were all laid out in a past age, before the automobile horn was heard in the land, and hence, as might be expected, they are too narrow and there are too many "blind" corners. New streets must be opened up so as to afford more freedom for traffic and many of the "blind" corners must be removed. In this process of reconstruction to meet present conditions, many streets must be widened and many new streets cut through congested districts to permit free access and avoid traffic jams and the danger of accidents resulting from the present crowded conditions.

It is particularly important that the new streets to be laid out shall have none of the defects of the old and hence, so far as may be practicable, they should be wide, straight and parallel. These are the three essential conditions demanded by the needs of present day public travel in our public streets.

DIGGING OUR OWN GRAVES

Every lover of quiet, every spot between husband and wife, begins in the snow pit or the oven, says a celebrated English surgeon. Most of us have noticed a tendency to become irritable when our digestion is out of order.

The London surgeon even believes that character is considerably regulated by what goes into the stomach. He is reasoning along the same lines as in feeding raw meat to a prize-fighter to make him ferocious.

Sir William Osler once said: "For some reason the brain and the stomach have never been friends, and the cleverest man I know treat their stomach like dogs."

Charles E. Hoelt, English food expert, says he studied great men of history and decided Osler was right.

Robert Spencer, the philosopher, always ate a heavy dinner an hour before going to bed—and never was able to figure out why he had insomnia and indigestion. Hoelt thinks Spencer's gloom and cynicism were caused by his ignorance of the simplest rules of diet.

Napoleon, another dyspeptic, ate at irregular hours. He boiled his meals. He forced. He was forever munching candy. Here was a brilliant man, intellectual enough to conquer nations after nation. Yet he couldn't master his appetite or exercise reason in regulating his diet.

Shakespeare's marvelous plays could never have been written by a dyspeptic. He ate carefully, sensibly and had excellent digestion.

A big insurance company claims that nearly half of the illnesses of its policyholders originate in indigestion. You recall the old saying, that most people die their graves with their teeth.

Perhaps good cooks cause more indigestion than bad cooks, for tasty victuals entice people to over-eat. Most folks, when the stomach is upset, blame it on some particular thing they have eaten. As a rule, though, indigestion is caused by eating too much—or too fast, as is the tendency in this nervous, speed-crazed age when everyone imagines he is in a hurry.

An old country doctor says it is a good rule always to go away from the table a bit hungry. The stomach easily can be the gateway to the cemetery.

Proper mastication is the first process. Proper digestion next. The body requires varied elements for nutrition and chemical ingredients usually contained in vegetables in addition to plenty of water to enable the wonderful human laboratory involved in the work of digestion to function properly.

In the last year Americans ate more meat than ever before, according to the packers' national organization.

Medical examiners for insurance companies accordingly will be instructed to watch more closely for high blood pressure.

The secret of sensible diet is moderation. Common sense in such matters consists in adopting the golden mean of moderation midway between too little and too much.

PATRIOTS' DAY

It was in 1923 that April 15, Patriots' day, fell upon a Saturday with the following Sunday being Easter, and so it will be this year. Inasmuch as the Saturday before Easter is a great trading day for the stores, the merchants in a few Massachusetts cities in 1924 decided to keep open on Patriots' day and observe the holiday on the following Monday. They discovered, however, that the people generally observed the holiday on Saturday, having done their trading on the previous days. It is well for the merchants everywhere to do the same. The observance of Patriots' day cannot be postponed for commercial reasons. The anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord and the first battle of the Civil war, when two Lowell men became the protagonists of that conflict, arouse the enthusiasm of the people of Lowell, so that they will not for any reason postpone the observance. This holiday has, therefore, a double significance for the people of Lowell; and it was also a Lowell man, the late Governor Green, who suggested that the holiday be so named. There will be no postponement of the observance here, nor do we believe any will be attempted anywhere.

SEEN AND HEARD

Talk isn't cheap when congress does the talking.

A dog show held in New York recently was a very snappy affair.

London prisoners must shave daily, so what is the advantage of being in jail there?

A man gets soaked by the boot-leggers and gets soaked on the booze and still the judge soaks him.

In Ashland, Neb., a poor old man of 79 eloped with a woman lawyer, but maybe he doesn't like to talk much anyway.

A Thought

Gossip is a sort of smoke that comes from the dirty tobacco pipes of those who diffuse it. It does nothing but the bad taste of the smoker.—George Elliot.

Dean of 'Em All

"Come over here and meet Mr. Smith," said a friend, "this is the great Russian expert." "What is a Russian expert?" we asked. "Well, he went to Russia and came back alive," explained the friend.—Kansas City Star.

A Gallant Courtier

A Frenchman was courting an English girl. Her mother said, mischievously: "Now, monseigneur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?" With great presence of mind, he replied: "I would rush with mademoiselle."—London Daily News.

How Absent-Minded!

He was always kicking. One day his wife took him to a restaurant and he immediately proceeded to kick the waiter. "Now, monseigneur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?" With great presence of mind, he replied: "I would rush with mademoiselle."—London Daily News.

Somebody Forgot His Coat

It was a sleepy sort of day, the class was about half the usual size, and the "prof" was calling the roll in a half-absent manner. To each name someone had answered "here" until the name of Smith was called. Silence reigned for a moment only to be broken by the instructor's voice. "My word! What! Mr. Smith any friends here?"—Hinsdale.

Too Good to Sell

A matter-of-fact father of an embryo poet handed some of the lad's efforts to a distinguished author of verse, and asked for his opinion. "Well, what's the answer?" queried the father after the author had glanced through the copy. "Alas," sighed the poet, "those things are so good, I'm afraid you'll have to support Henry the rest of his life."—Writers' Monthly.

No Maiden Name for Her

A colored naming came into the office of the estate, for which she worked, to receive her monthly wages. As she could not write, she always made a cross on the receipt. On this occasion she made a circle. "What's the matter, Linda?" the man in charge asked. "Why don't you make a cross as usual?" "Why," Linda explained earnestly, "Ah done got married yesterday an' changed mah name."—Dry Goods Economist.

Most Valuable Cow

The noted Chicago lawyer, Emory Storrs, attended a banquet of stock breeders in the old hotel some 50 years ago. Called upon to speak, he said: "Gentlemen, I have listened with great interest to the merits and good qualities of the Jersey, Holstein and other breeds of cattle, but as an attorney for railroads I can assure you the most valuable and highest-priced animal in the world is the off-spring of an ordinary cow crossed by a locomotive."

Capitalizing a Misfortune

A clerk in a retail clothing store stayed out so late at night that he felt compelled to snatch naps during store hours. Being a relative of a member of the firm was all that saved him from being fired. The manager, becoming exasperated, enlisted the aid of one of his assistants. The next day, the lethargic clerk found himself in the pajama department. On the counter before him was a sign which read: "Our pajamas are of such superior quality that even the man who sells them can't keep awake."—Printers' Ink Monthly.

The Way of the Gods

Set no sail by future "bookmaking." Let no dream delay your hand. Every hour the gods are trading. Newer puzzles in the sand, And, with every wave, they whisper— "Make a start from where you stand."

Stay not harbored for the rising of a larger, brighter sun. Board your anchor on the instant. That your tide be high to run. Take your course and hold it bravely. This—the gods deny to none.

But beware of over-crowding. Trim your sheets to meet a shock. Who is he who sails with caution? Learn to luff and bears to tack. For the gods made often a way. When the wind is at your back. —BY LOWE W. WREN.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The bird store windows are always gay when springtime approaches than any other time. If it isn't plain moulted but dainty on display, it is a new brand or two of fox terriers, canaries, parrots, parakeets or even goldfish. And then the choice food displays! There's everything for all animals and also members of the winged world, from remedies for dogs and cats to washing tanks for canaries and also "song seed" which makes 'em sing. A very colorful business—the distribution of dogs, cats and birds.

Radio "ad" columns in newspapers and magazines are beginning to fill up with second-hand radio set advertisements nowadays. Just like the second-hand automobile columns in the newspapers every day—perhaps we should call them used cars—after a while the owners want something new or none at all, and from now on, we suppose, it will be possible to pick up a good radio set for half price or less, just as one can purchase a good automobile today at the same cost-minus ratio, if you are careful when you are buying and know real values from the standpoint of an experienced automobile owner.

Company C members are splendid entertainers, from cantina down to high private. When they hold an entertainment in Highland club rooms, it is something real, something earnest, something worth attending. Like that social last Friday evening in celebration of Washington's birthday. The military organization of the infantry line is not so old in useful years as some of the veteran state guard troops in other quarters of the state armory on Westford street, but it has made a name for itself in active training, fraternal spirit and real American grit of their brand needed nowadays to carry on under the good old Stars and Stripes when the nation calls her sons into action.

In connection with the local historical society's aspirations, it may not be out of place to mention that the trustees of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, which meets regularly at the Harrison Gray Otis house, No. 2 Lynde street, Boston, is planning to secure new and larger quarters for the preservation of the society's surplus of historical material. We are told that the gifts and relics are already beginning to crowd the Otis house and the society is now anxious to arrive at a working agreement with the Shirley-Bustis House association, as a result of which it may acquire the use of two or three rooms to be fitted up for the New England's society's collection.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Ella Allen of Whitney street reached the age of three whole years last Sunday afternoon and a party was given for her in honor of the event at the home of Miss Katherine Kenney in Salem street. Many of the little girl's friends were there and three or four of them, Chas. Donovan, Elizabeth Kenney, Mary Hassett and Mary Quinn, took part in an entertainment program of songs and dancing. There were pretty gifts of the sort desired by a child of three and dainty refreshments added to the pleasure of the afternoon.

JAPAN WOULD RESENT PASSAGE OF BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Passage of the immigration restriction bill now in committee in the house with the clause barring all people ineligible for citizenship, would be "resented by Japan as a gratuitous act of unfriendly character," George W. Wickersham, former attorney general declared in a letter addressed to members of the senate and house.

Writing as chairman of the national committee on American-Japanese relations, Mr. Wickersham's letter which was made public today, says the bill would do away with the "gentlemen's agreement" between the United States and Japan. If this is the end sought by congress, he suggests it should be approached through the state department. "Responsible Japanese have repeatedly declared," he asserts, "that if the gentlemen's agreement is not satisfactory the Japanese will gladly reconsider the whole matter and make some new arrangement."

Declaring the Japanese government has administered agreement with "careful fidelity," Mr. Wickersham cites immigration bureau figures that from the time it went into effect in 1908, up to 1922, about Japanese males who had left the United States, including Hawaii, exceeded by 22,737 those who had entered. The figures, he added, showed an increase in immigration to continental United States during the period of 1921, consisting of women and children.

SEN. GREENE SHOWS STEADY PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Senator Greene of Vermont, malnourished today by his slow but steady progress toward recovery. His attendants, who saw only a slight chance for him to live for a time after the extent of the lull, would in his bed had been determined, were hopeful today that he would soon be out of danger.

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing acts rid of indigestion quicker than Bisulphate of Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fair-minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy, and upset, with after-eating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble, neither sell nor pity him, but help him by seeing that he has a supply of Bisulphate of Magnesia (either powder or tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder or two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach, thus causing his trouble and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bisulphate of Magnesia in the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion—do not confuse with Milk, Carbonate, Block or Citrate of Magnesia. Insist on Bisulphate. Its action is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.—Adv.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE STUBBORN BELIEVER

I'm covered with countless contusions,
I'm bruised and I'm battered and hurt
Where facts have bumped into illusions
And knocked me about in the dirt.
Yet, 'spile of these countless collisions
In which, to the realist's view,
The facts get the best of the visions,
I go on believing them true.

I've suffered a deal of deceiving,
I've had my faith often betrayed,
And yet I will go on believing,
My faith remains still unafraid.
And though I seem blind and mistaken
To those whom realities rule,
I hold to my visions unshaken,
I'll go right on being a fool!

By cold, heavy fact I am battered,
By ugly, material things,
But somehow my soul is unshattered,
My spirit still flies upon wings.
Though life and its wounds set me grieving
And put my illusions to flight,
I still shall go right on believing,
And know in my heart I am right.

MILK PEDDLER SHARES IN $1,000,000 ESTATE

RUTLAND, Vt., Feb. 26.—T. G. Hart, of Rutland, a milk peddler, and his sister, Mrs. Edward Leonard of Clarendon, an adjacent farming community, have become joint heirs to the $1,000,000 estate of their aunt, Mrs. Ellen M. Wilson of Sacramento, Calif., through a decision of the California supreme court. It was learned last night.

The fortune, consisting of 5000 acres of fertile California soil, and thousands of dollars in bonds and negotiable securities, was left by Mrs. Wilson to an only son, who died without issue, causing the property to revert to her blood. For three years the case has been in the California courts. A year ago the son's widow sought to gain the money and land, but the court decided against her. Other claimants attempted to hold the estate as community property, prolonging the litigation until Saturday when Mr. Hart and Mrs. Leonard were informed of the court's decision. The nucleus of the fortune was formed by Mrs. Wilson and her husband in 1849, when they went west with the "forty-niners," intent upon striking "pay dirt" in California. Mr. Wilson died, but his wife, a shrewd Yankee, increased the property to its present proportions. Sun want ads bring results.

Why Are So Many People Buying Lowell Coke?

Have you noticed all of the yellow wagons and trucks delivering Lowell Coke in all parts of the city?

If you have, you have perhaps wondered why you see them so often.

The answer is simple. More people are buying Lowell Coke at the present time than ever in the history of this company.

The large pile of 8000 tons which we had stored in our yard in School street is rapidly disappearing.

As people learn that

gives as much, if not more, heat than coal, has very little, if any ash, is light to handle, and is so much cheaper than coal, they are keeping the telephone wires busy placing their orders.

The fact that we are giving sixty bushels to the ton has appealed to people with a saving sense. That is at least ten bushels more than is delivered of any other solid fuel.

Lowell Coke can be handled easily by any member of the family, including children's, and it will not burn or destroy the fire box or the grate.

HELD WINNING TICKETS IN AUTO DRAWING

Charles W. Holmes, of 153 Varnum avenue, Frederick D. Crowe, of 22 Auburn street, and C. B. Hart, of Pleasant street, Concord, Mass., were announced as the winners of the Hupmobile sedan, the Studebaker touring and the Ford sedan, respectively, at the grand drawing in K. of C. hall last night for the three machines offered by the Lowell Knights of Columbus in the contest conducted during the past several months. The names of the lucky winners were drawn from a large barrel containing more than 100,000 tickets with the following three judges presiding: Robert H. Dudley of the G. C. Prince Co., Albert W. David of the United States Cartridge Co., and Frank B. McLean of the Lowell Sunday Telegram.

The drawing was witnessed by a gathering of about 1000 persons who looked on with bated breath as the cards containing the names of the winners were lifted from the multitude of "tubs" in the barrel. Mr. Holmes, the winner of the Hup, is a well known manufacturer of this city, while Mr. Crowe, the Studebaker winner, is a popular (Smith. Mr. Holmes is now visiting in Florida. His winning ticket cost him one cent. Mr. Crowe's ticket bore a two-cent label, and Mr. Hart's eight cents. As no one in the hall last night knew Mr. Hart, the name of Mark J. Flaherty, 115 Willow street, Jamaica Plain, was drawn as alternate.

Previous to the drawing, Lecturer Edward F. Slatery presented several entertainers, including Raymond Kelley, Horatius Leggat, John T. Baxter, Thomas Dowd, George Sullivan and Fred Cummings, William F. Thornton, chairman of the automobile committee, spoke briefly in explanation of the holding of the contest in K. of C. hall instead of the Memorial Auditorium as originally planned. He said that the trustees of the Auditorium deemed it inadvisable to conduct the affair in the memorial building because it would set a precedent that other organizations might wish to follow.

AUTOS CRASH IN BILLCERICA

Two automobiles, a Dodge van and a Ford touring car, met in collision on the highway hill-top near the plant of the North Billerica manufacturing, yesterday afternoon. Both machines were badly damaged on front ends and put out of commission. Hugh P. Leonard of Lowell, was driver of the Ford. A Boston manufacturing concern owns the van, which was driven by Joseph Flaherty. The men were not injured.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION MEETING

Addressing the members of Lowell Christian Endeavor union last evening in Chelmsford Street Baptist church, Rev. Harold F. Carr, pastor of Pawtucket Congregational church and principal speaker, gave a summary of many fundamental rules and principles necessary for adoption when endeavoring to lead a Christian life. He gave also a list of the proper requisites for maintaining that sort of life and mentioned some of the pitfalls that lie in the path of those who struggle forward in attainment of the Christian life.

An excellent supper was served by the C. E. society at 6:30 o'clock. Many delegates from church C. E. societies of the city at large were present for the feast and after-dinner exercises. Mrs. H. H. Hilton was in general charge. Before Pastor Carr's address, departmental meetings were held and a good citizenship conference conducted with James P. Ramsay, superior court probation officer, delivering a short address. Music was given during the social hour.

At 8 o'clock, President Amos Fleming of the union, opened the business meeting and Fred Taylor led the song service in the absence of Edwin Wells, regular leader. Russell Coleman, president of Chelmsford Street society, brought greetings; Frank Spooner, treasurer of the union, reported, and Second Vice-President Fred Wilcox read the scriptures.

Hall-roll showed 230 persons in attendance, representing all societies in Lowell and neighboring towns. First Presbyterian church had the largest representation and received the attendance banner for the month's record.

The young women of the Attentive class, who served as waiters for the supper, included Mrs. H. H. Hilton, teacher; Miss Helen Zollinger, Gertrude Zollinger, Grace Randall, Aldredh Lee, Pearl Sinner, Mabel Fraser, Myrtle Rogerson, Elva Walsh, Winifred Wright, Esther Beardsley, Lillian Marshall, Gertrude Leggett, Blanche Hilton and Dorothy Sinner. They were assisted by Allan Fraser, Carl Hilton, William Ratcliffe, Mrs. Alden Matthews and Rev. Arthur B. Clarke, pastor of the church. The church decorations were of red, white and blue.

Experience as Nurse Causes Mrs. Fleming to Endorse Tanlac

Practical Nurse for 16 Years
Tells of Recovery, Thanks to Tanlac—Recommends it to Patients

"I would never have believed any medicine on earth could help me like Tanlac did," is the precise statement of Mrs. Celia Fleming, 1915 Addison St., Berkeley, Cal., a practical nurse of sixteen years' experience.

In 1904 a serious operation weakened my system so I never saw a real well day until I took Tanlac three years ago. I never seemed to be hungry, my stomach was so disordered I could scarcely retain a thing I ate.

and I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I was very anemic, and shattered nerves and sleepless nights contributed even more to my already miserable state.

"Tanalac built up my appetite and digestion wonderfully, and every simple ailment went away. Then, with returning strength came a 32-pound increase in weight, and from that day three years ago my health has been splendid. I recommend Tanlac to many of my patients, for it is indeed a remarkable medicine."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 40 million bottles sold. Accept no substitute.

uses is not apt to occur. Do not on any account neglect a slight cold, nasal discharge or any unusual condition.

Any nasal or throat infection affects the passages and mucous membranes to such an extent that it often becomes chronic and in many people almost defies curative treatment. The pus-germ caused by nasal sinus infection, particularly in children, frequently lead to lead cases of bronchitis, heart disease and Bright's disease.

Neglecting to treat such slight attacks at once, may also lead to much greater disturbances in the accessory sinuses of the skull.

Not only does this neglect produce the disease condition mentioned, but proper nasal growth in children is often retarded to such an extent that the nasal passages are never sufficiently developed. In such cases the nasal passages in adult life are sometimes no more developed than those of a small child.

Such a condition produces a great defect in facial growth and expression. Sometimes the nose itself becomes twisted to one side by muscular efforts to breathe properly.

NASAL OBSTRUCTIONS

Careless habits of dressing during the rapid changes of weather in February and March will often lead to temporary conditions of nasal or sinus troubles.

If not promptly attended to, it often leads to serious nose and head complications.

The bones of the nasal cavities contain four pairs of air spaces, which act as communicating tubes or canals with the nasal passages. Often through very slight causes or simple attacks of invading germs the mucous membranes of the passages become inflamed and infected.

If these nasal attacks are carefully attended to the infection of the sin-

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND THEATRE

After having earned a reputation as the greatest moving picture actress in the world with her portrayals of girlish parts, Mary Pickford startled and charmed audiences at the Strand theatre yesterday with her vivid acting of the little role of the ship play, "Rosita." As "Rosita," Mary no longer appeals to the hearts of the audiences by her childishness, but portrays a character of one who has grown up out of childhood and is mature.

Ever since the cinema was in its infancy, Mary Pickford has been classed as one of the best of its many stars, having gained that title by her portrayals of girls in the "pig-tail" and "gingham gown" stage. Many feared that her title would be lost if ever she attempted to portray the character of a mature woman, but these fears have been vanquished by her splendid work in the character role of this play, "Rosita."

Assisting "Our Mary" in her first grown-up endeavor are Hedbrook Blinn, Irene Rich, George Walsh, and numerous other equally well known stars. The story of "Rosita" is good, the directing of the picture is excellent, and the scenery is correct in every detail.

"Rosita" is a street singer in Spain, wandering through the streets of cities where carnivals are being held, she sings and plays her guitar, collecting pennies enough to support her father and mother, two brothers and a sister. The king rules with an iron hand but has a very evident weakness for female pulchritude. In Toledo a carnival is in progress and "Rosita," playing her guitar and singing the popular street songs of the day, holds the attention of a large crowd. Before she can take up her collection, however, the king appears and Rosita's crowd and likewise her collection vanishes. She then sings a song belittling the king and is arrested and thrown into prison. The king has seen her, however, and orders her brought before him. He showers her with gifts, but she repulses his advances. A handsome young nobleman falls in love with her and wins her favor by his many endeavors. The development of this romance with its climax in the marriage of Countess Rosita and Count Don Diego, furnishes thrills galore and gives the actors splendid opportunities to show their dramatic ability.

The second feature on the program is a Mack Sennett production entitled "The Shriek of Araby," featuring Ben Turpin and Kathryn McGuire. The picture is a parody on the original "Shrek" play and in a laugh manufacturer from beginning to end.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

In many vaudeville houses throughout the country patrons are told in one way or another that the order of acts on a program does not necessarily have any bearing upon their worth. The same may well be said of the present review of this week's show at B. F. Keith's theatre, which has in it three or four acts that stand approximately upon the same plane. The entire program is exceptionally fine, well varied and filled with good things from beginning to end.

Just to make a start we will begin with Miss Helen Stover, soprano, presented by May Tully. Possessed of a beautiful voice of rare sweetness, Miss Stover adds to its charm of manner and personality in full measure and the result is unqualified success. She has enjoyed excellent training and has had a great deal of experience in operatic and recital work. "Kiss in the Dark" and "Lindy Lou" are two of her best numbers, but for real worth one turns to the "Voi lo bapete" aria from Cavalleria Rusticana, which she sang last night with capital effect.

Billy Glason is another kind of entertainer, but in his specialty just as effective. He is a ceaseless talker and skips from one thing to another with amazing speed and with the fun pulled out to the limit. Much of his stuff is from the pen of Neal O'Hara, well known newspaper humorist and syndicate writer. His songs are good, too, and brand new.

George Alexander, he of the polished done, is another splendid humorist in his presentation of a comedy playlet called "The Failure." He is assisted by Grace Bishop and Larry Williams. There is a well defined story told by the skit and while it is comedy, Alexander puts not a little seriousness into it, too, although the audience never is allowed to settle too quietly in its chairs.

Laughter and chatter and a whole bag-full of wise sayings may be found in the act of Fred Jarvis and Freddie Harrison, labelled "Home-Home." The pair are entertainers and well merited the sustained applause accorded them last evening.

Rose and Bunny Brill sing, dance and talk and dress effectively. The program says they are "Just Peaches" and we have no quarrel with that. The show is opened by Blinn and Grill, who present some marvelously clever bits of gymnastics and tumbling. With or without their apparatus they are good.

The feature motion picture this week is Jack London's story, "The Call of the Wild."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The greatest picture Swanson ever built is the way they style Gloria Swanson's production, "The Humming Bird," now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre. And the stylings are correct, for "The Humming Bird" is without doubt the best offering of this popular film ideal ever witnessed in a local theatre. It is a story of France bringing the audience back to the meliorism of World War days and depicting with extreme realism the blood-soaked battle areas of fighting France; the hurried mobilization of the French Apaches, the bombardment of a Paris suburb, the arrival of the doughboys and finally, the armistice.

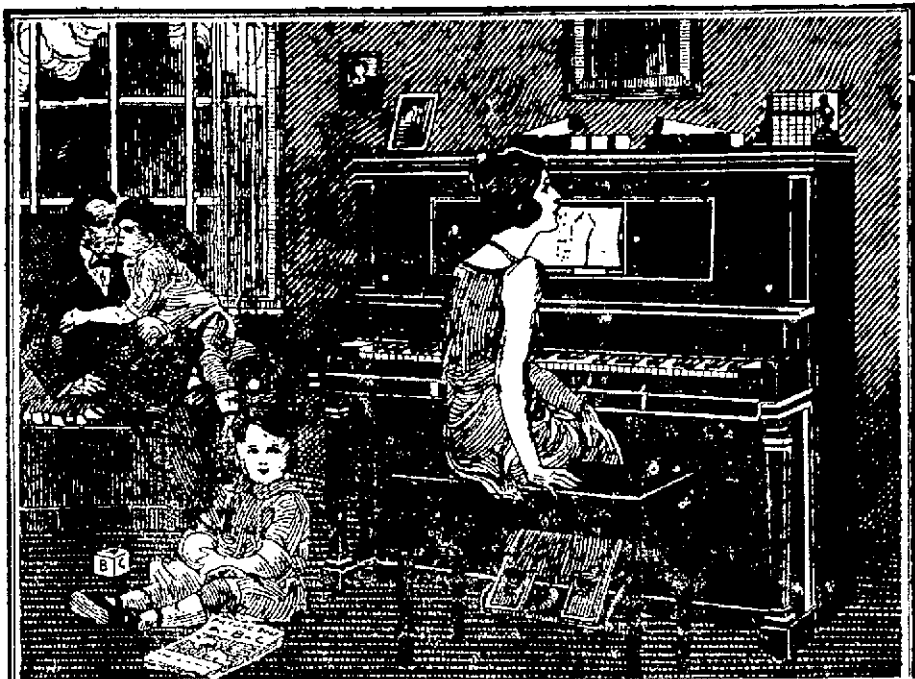

Miss Swanson in the picturization of the great story, which is filmed from the play of the same name by Maurice Pulton, portrays the difficult role of "Toinette," a habitue of the Parisian underworld, but with a heroine of the highest merit. From the character of "Toinette," she changes to the fascinating boy role of "The Humming Bird," a thorn in the side of the Paris police. As "Toinette," she is loved and respected by every Apache in France, one of the reasons being her incredible cleverness in eluding the authorities, who are leaving no stone unturned in their search for the mysterious "humming bird." In the exclusive Montmartre district, she pursues the valuable jewels of a society woman while the chief of police is on the scene. Her escape is effected by a rapid change of costume and going to a church to play as a penitent while the police search the cathedra in vain.

And then a man, an American—enters her life. She cares for him when he is wounded in a fight, and they become steadfast friends until the American's fiancée arrives. In the meantime, the war breaks out and "Toinette," in male clothes, enlists. Her disguise is discovered, she is arrested and sent to prison, but when her place of seclusion is bombarded by the enemy, she makes her escape and goes to the home of the American who has been wounded in action. A happy reunion results. One may surmise the reason for this claim just attention is Larry Swanson's comedy, "The Town Shop," also "New England in Motion Pictures," the prize Boston Post picture, "Fun from the Press" and an International News reel.

RIALTO THEATRE

A fascinating Romeo by Tom Mix at the Rialto theatre in "Mile-A-Minute Romeo," his latest William Fox production which is now playing at the popular Rogers Square theatre. Shakespeare would undoubtedly be surprised to learn that profound love transients can be converted to an audience without the use of tumultuous sighs, heaving bosoms, lachrymal blandishments and hysterical gestation. Tom Mix as a lover is typical of his age. He is fast and furious, practical and efficient, a man of action finding his love and marrying her without much to do about nothing. Instead of going into a corner to bewail the cruelty of fate and the capriciousness of love, he offers supplications to conciliate the deities and their disciples in his favor. Tom Mix roars "Bunk!" and hops aboard his horse-flesh, locomotive Tony. With a bound he is cut in the thick of things, playing with Kismet, as if they were his consanguine brothers, teasing, tempting them, yet always keeping them, as if, to keep the figure, they had been his younger brothers, under complete servile submission. man of Mix's calibre, fate is a "Far," something created for no other purpose than one's amusement. This is how he manages the unruly, sometimes rebellious fellows in "Mile-A-Minute Romeo." His name is Lucky Bill and he has had as his target more men than hearts. In aiding a friend to elope with a beautiful girl, he falls in love with the latter's choice. Later he finds that the particular girl is the "choice" of another fellow, making the aggregate number three. How each man contrives to eliminate his rival gives the director opportunity for staging some of the most comical, thrilling and rousing scenes the screen has ever produced. The audience contemporary with the reviewer was very enthusiastic about the film. The cast in support of Tom Mix gives a very pleasant quota of interpretative talent to the piece, Betty Jewel making a very magnificent leading lady for the popular star.

"A Wife's Romance," the added attraction, starring Clara Kimball Young, provides this star with a role that is typical of her. She is seen as the wife of the American consul at Madrid, who is loved by Ramon, who can be described in no better way than as the Robin Hood of Spain. He is a chivalrous, brave son of sun-burnt Spain—a brigand to be sure—but beloved by the poor for his charities and feared by the rich for his daring.

A Bull Montana comedy and a Pathe News are also on the program, a program that will surely please everyone.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS TAKE UP TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Vote to Call Mass Meeting of Downtown Business Men to Secure Opinions on Plan Submitted By Police Chief T. R. Atkinson

The "Atkinson plan" of handling traffic in congested parts of Lowell may be carried out if active leading business interests of the municipality now working diligently on the proposition, have their way.

Lowell chamber of commerce directors, after a two-hour discussion of present-day local street traffic problems, following a regular business session and luncheon in chamber headquarters this afternoon, decided unanimously to immediately issue notices to retail merchants doing business in Merrimack, Central and Prescott streets, to gather in general assembly in some local hall soon and present their ideas on local traffic problems in general and the more vital problems of handling traffic of all kinds on the three streets named.

The directors feel the traffic problems of Lowell today are leading all other questions of public interest locally and that prompt action is necessary to reach some decision as to future action in the regulation of general motor car, vehicular and electric car traffic through the central section of Lowell.

This afternoon's action on the part of the chamber directors, led by President Edward Fisher, who presided, followed a discussion of old and new traffic problems that lasted exactly two hours. The sentiment was strong for action on the part of the chamber organization as the leading body representing all Lowell's mercantile interests and civic conditions in general.

The date of the meeting of the retail storekeepers, whose rallying numbers will include all located on the three streets above named and conducting mercantile interests in the so-called "down town" section of Lowell, will be announced tomorrow or the following day.

Secretary-Manager George P. Wells told The Sun that today's discussion took up the recommendations in detail recently received from Chief of Police Thomas R. Atkinson, which calls for "no-parking" in restricted sections of Merrimack, Central and Prescott streets.

CHECKS AND PLAIDS

We are facing a season of checks and plaids, so far as topcoats and sport costumes are concerned. No stripe is too wide, no check too deep to find favor in fashion's eye. With such ornate fabrics all form of trimming is rendered unnecessary and the lines are as uncomplicated as possible. A novel collar is introduced on the smart coat of gray and white striped wool and a narrow cape falls below the waistline in the back. The three-piece costume shows the popular sports dress of the day with an added attraction in the way of a fringed panel and a smart cape fastening snugly about the throat. Both these costumes are good for town as well as country wear.

FALL RIVER PASTOR WARNS MILLS POLICIES MUST BE CHANGED

Antiquated Machinery Must Be Junked, Favoritism Forgotten and Modern Methods Pursued, He Says —Mgr. Cassidy Denounces Conditions There

FALL RIVER, Feb. 25.—Conversion from coarse to fine goods on the part of Fall River mills and wholesale junking of "obsolete and antiquated machinery" is immediately necessary, if this city is to hold its place as a cotton cloth center. This is the substance of a stirring talk on "The Fall River Mill Situation," given by Rev. Mgr. James E. Cassidy, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church.

"Neptunism and dumbbellism must go by the board," warned the pastor. "Dishonesty alike in mill treasurer and mill operative must be relentlessly pursued; modern methods and modern machinery must replace antiquated junk; there must be absorption and combinations; and, finally, Fall River must eventually bleed, print, and sell its own product and put an end forever to the present system of middleman and converter; thus, and only thus, can Fall River meet the rising tide of change and competition.

"Mills cannot buy cotton at high prices unless they can sell goods at high prices—and this is exactly what is temporarily closing our mills. The product is not in proportion to the production costs and many mills without reserve supplies of cotton must run at a loss or close, and they are closing. This, however, is a passing or temporary condition and does not enter essentially into the discussion of the mill situation.

The North and South

"The southern mills are operated under the handicap of climate and shortage help. But they have cotton and coal at their doors; they have longer hours; they have lower wages; they have lower taxes; the laws are not so restrictive in the employment of women and children, and their help is largely non-union.

"In addition, their mills are largely modern, with modern machinery, electrically driven, of ten story construction, avoiding the waste of lifting and lowering material and products, up and down four and even five stories, as is done in Fall River."

"There are mills in Fall River that are walking skeletons, stripped of bone and sinew and sucked blood-free by greedy stockholders, and their skin-chasing skeletons are now trying to compete in the race with the modern built mills.

"Many mills made fortunes during the war. But instead of reinvesting those fortunes in new machinery or in conversion to other lines of goods, mill treasurers flung, sometimes unwillingly, these fortunes into the outstretched hands of clamorous and greedy stockholders, and after the high tide of war prosperity had subsided, found themselves with depleted treasuries and worn out and obsolete machinery.

"In the management of Fall River's mills there has been in the past too much of what is commonly known as 'Neptunism.' Neptunism is defined by the Century Dictionary as 'Favoritism shown to nephews and other relatives.' And if there was ever a place in the world where Neptunism has worked its ruin, Fall River is the place.

"Brains, merit, ability, experience counted for nothing, but if you were the son, nephew, cousin, son-in-law, of so-and-so, no matter how big a dumbbell you were, you were just the man for the mill agent, treasurer or superintendent. That might be a matter of the mill man's personal concern only if it entailed hardship only on the mill man's or the stockholder's families.

'Dumbbellism' Management

"But when such dumbbellism management drags down alike hundreds of operatives and operatives' families and children, then it becomes a matter of much wider concern.

"There are mills in this city, and they are not fine goods mills—I will not name them out of courtesy to their owners every whirl of whose machinery is answered by a competitive whirl of machinery in southern mills.

Every pound of their product is produced in shorter hours, for lower pay, with restrictions upon women and child employment, is sold across the counter in competition with southern goods.

"And yet their gates are open, and the mills are running every working day in the year; their operatives are second to none in intelligence and contentment, and judging from their dividends and their surplus, they make a large profit on every pound of goods they make and sell, and they are not worrying much about southern competition.

"Why? Because these mills are run on business principles; they have not been allowed to become junk shops; their machinery has been kept modern and in good repair; but principally because brains and merit and efficiency hold first place in their management, and with them, despotic, dumbbellism and dishonesty are unknown."

Jack immediately pulled a match out of his pocket. "Gee," he shouted, "this is the only match I've got. It's lucky I had one, isn't it?" And then he struck the match and almost as soon as it blazed, it puffed out. "Now what am I going to do?" shouted the little adventurer.

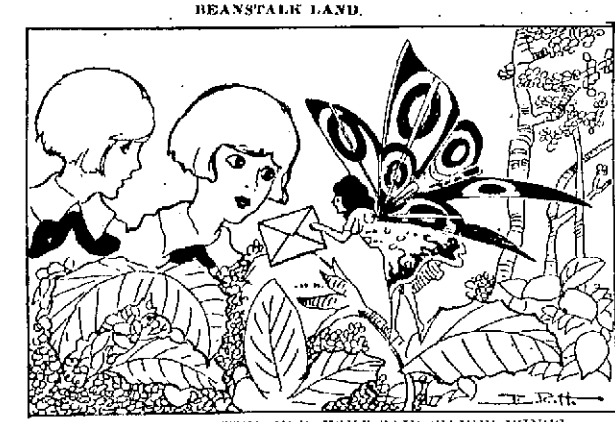

"Well, I'll tell you what you shouldn't do," snapped East Wind. "You should never carry matches. That's why I blew that match out. Just to teach you a lesson." Then he told Jack if he wanted to get dry and avoid a cold, just to run, fast as he could, over to a pile of rocks nearby.

Jack started to run, and Flip barked and ran after him. When they came to the rocks Jack discovered that East Wind was there ahead of him. And, in an instant, he also discovered that his clothes felt dry again. "Isn't that better than playing with matches?" asked East Wind. (Continued.)

STATE AND FEDERAL TAX

Time Limit for Filing of Income Tax Returns Will Soon Be Up

The last days for filing state and federal income tax returns are drawing near and the rush of near last-minute filers to the state bureau in the Sun building, which began last Friday and Saturday, continues unabated. The state returns must be filed before March 1, while the federal returns, which may be filed on the second floor of the postoffice building, are to be filed before March 15.

Inasmuch as the time of grace for filing state returns expires first, this office is getting the greater amount of business right now. The machinery of the office is operating smoothly and citizens are taken care of with notable efficiency and courtesy. At the federal building, Collector Mackenzie and his staff are kept comfortably busy. Saturday was the biggest day thus far this year and Monday's business was well in keeping with the Saturday standard. Today filers came in a steady stream that kept the staff just comfortably busy. Another big day is expected tomorrow and because of that it is desirable that those who can file or appear to have their returns examined during the middle of the week do so.

"The great rush will not hit us for another week," explained Collector Mackenzie this morning. "The state returns are being filed first. The state returns here have for this reason we look to be swamped at the last minute unless some folks who could just as well come during the week do so."

Naturalization Court Still in Session

here will end with tomorrow's work. Persons desirous of qualifying for citizenship, especially war veterans, who were unable to qualify here may go to the federal building in Boston on March 2.

As a result of yesterday's work by Clerk Smith and his staff, assisted by courthouse attaches under Custodian Bickford and a corps of federal examiners up from Boston for the occasion, ninety-six persons qualified for citizenship yesterday and were advised to appear July 2 to take the oath. Of this number 15 were men who served honorably in the American military forces during the World War. Forty of the qualified were women.

This morning's session, which started at 10 o'clock, was underway but a few brief minutes before the century mark was reached by Clerk Smith, the hundredth person to qualify here being a war veteran. Applicants for first and second papers were segregated in the state court corridor, civil room and handled as expeditiously as has ever been done here.

Concerted Move on Jalapa

It is expected the combined forces will reach the capital during the present week.

Western Front Pacific

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The western front has been established in Jalisco, Colima, Michoacan and Guanajuato. President Obregon stated upon his arrival last night from Guadalajara, where he conferred with federal commanders regarding the operations necessary to clean up the regions which until recently were under the domination of the rebels.

Enrique Estrada, who was last reported at Coahuila, in western Michoacan, according to Gen. Obregon, is expected to attempt to return to Guerrero. Questioned relative to the reported appointment of Ramon Ross as Mexican ambassador to Washington, the president said "Senor Ross has not yet been appointed, nor has his selection as ambassador been considered."

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, interviewed after his arrival at Monterrey, according to special dispatches, declared he would shortly resign his military post and resume his presidential campaign since the complete pacification of the republic was well toward completion.

Ludendorff on Trial

of the Munich district. Lieut. Henry Purnell, who is Ludendorff's stepson and five men accused of being Hitler's aides: Lieut. Wagner, and Bruckner, Captain Roehm, Dr. Weber and Col. Kriebel.

The Nationalist "Putsch" was extremely short-lived. It started the night of November 8 in a beer cellar, when Hitler at the head of his men raided a meeting attended by the Bavarian government leaders and proclaimed himself chancellor, and Ludendorff dictator of the entire German republic.

Hitler's well-organized troops of the Oberland organization, occupied different quarters of the city and apparently controlled the situation.

The next day, however, Reichswehr forces under orders from Dr. Von Kahr, the recently resigned Bavarian military dictator, attacked the Hitlerites and after brief fighting, regained possession of the war ministry. Ludendorff and other leaders were arrested but Hitler fled and was not taken until later.

The proceedings today were expected to be devoted chiefly to the preliminary of the trial and hearing Hitler give testimony in his own behalf.

Gen. Ludendorff appeared in court attired in a civilian suit of dark material and wearing the Iron Cross of the first class. He was, perhaps, the coolest and most collected among the defendants. The only one of the accused who appeared in uniform was Ernst Wagner, who is an active officer in the Reichswehr.

No excitement is apparent in the city, although the road leading to the military academy is blocked by barbed wire and armed patrols. The police hold up everyone and demand that passes be shown.

After Gen. Ludendorff's arrival the police court, read the extremely lengthy indictment, the reading lasting an hour and a half. All the defendants with the exception of one are charged with high treason. The exception is Lieut. Purnell, accused of aiding the others.

The public prosecutor moved that the trial be held in camera, as a public hearing might endanger the security of the state and public order. Various of the counsel protested, demanding that the public only be excluded when evidence dangerous to

LOWELL GIRL STRICKEN

Margaret Brennan of Howard
Street Collapses on Train
En Route to Worcester

Margaret Brennan, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Brennan of 196 Howard street, this city, collapsed while on a train bound from Ayer to Worcester yesterday afternoon and was removed to the Worcester City hospital, where she remained for several hours before regaining consciousness sufficiently long to tell the hospital authorities her name and address.

Miss Brennan had been visiting at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Edwin A. McGuinness, of 1 Clough terrace, Worcester, for several months and returned to this city last Saturday to see her parents. Yesterday morning she started for Worcester by way of Ayer and collapsed while waiting for the train at Ayer. Her mother was notified and went to Ayer and stayed with the girl until she recovered. At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon she put her daughter on the Worcester train. The girl collapsed before the train reached Worcester and the conductor telegraphed ahead to have a doctor and ambulance at the station on the arrival of the train at 3 o'clock.

This was done and the girl was removed to the city hospital, where her illness was diagnosed as hysteria and nervous. She remained in a semi-conscious condition for several hours, during which time her identity remained unknown to hospital authorities.

When she recovered sufficiently to give her name and address, the Travelers Aid society representative got in touch with her mother, who in turn notified the girl's aunt, Mrs. McGuinness. Mrs. McGuinness immediately went to the hospital and as soon as the girl's condition permitted, removed her to her home.

Mrs. Brennan said this morning that her daughter was subject to attacks of this sort and the main purpose of her staying with her aunt in Worcester was to see if a change of scene would help her. Word was received this morning that the girl seemed to be perfectly all right now and would remain with her for the time being.

TRAFFIC HOLDUP IN DUTTON STREET

Traffic on Merrimack and Market streets at Dutton street was tied up for 15 or 20 minutes shortly after 5 o'clock this morning when the draw bar on Boston & Maine engine 423, which was pulling a long train of freight cars for the various corporations, broke and emergency repairs had to be effected on the job. Electric car traffic was especially hard hit, as a large number of extras that are run for the benefit of mill employees were coming down Dutton street at the time and were unable to continue on their way until the break was repaired and the train moved.

BON MARCHE EMPLOYEES DANCE

The annual dancing party by the Bon Marche Employees' Mutual Benefit association will be held tomorrow evening at Associate Hall. An energetic committee is in charge of this affair, which promises to be the greatest success in the history of the organization.

The safety of the state was being taken.

The court withdrew, and it was announced later that the public would be excluded while the court deliberated on the public prosecutor's motion.

Hitler Prime Mover

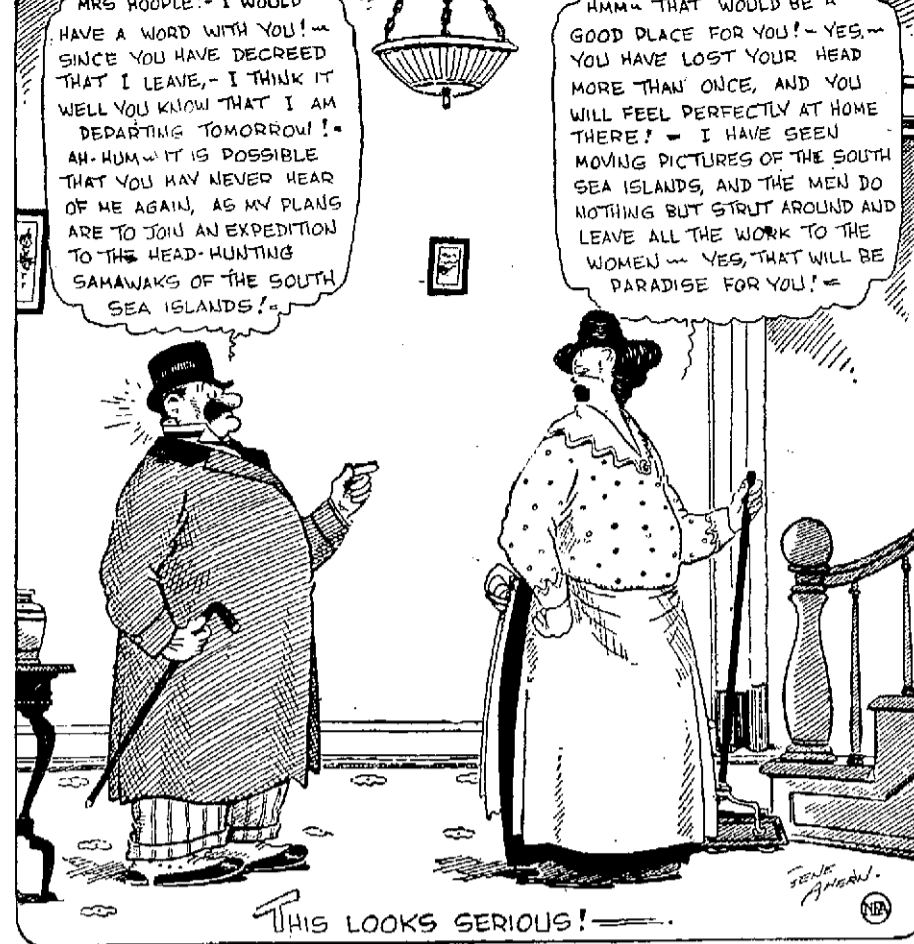

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—The Socialist News Service today publishes what purports to be an extract from the indictment against the defendants of participating in the Ludendorff Hitler "putsch" of Munich, last November.

According to this extract, the conduct of Dr. Von Kahr, the former Bavarian dictator, and Gen. Von Lossow, who headed the Bavarian Reichswehr, was held to be "harmless" although they had relations with Adolf Hitler and the others and were well informed of their plans.

The indictment describes Hitler as the prime mover, asserting that he aimed at the overthrow of the government of Germany and the Reich and that he allotted the offices of state, giving himself the leadership.

Gen. Ludendorff is declared to have been acquainted with all the plans for "this violent, unconstitutional undertaking" and to have acted as leader of the newly formed "national army." He is also alleged to have issued directions to the Reichswehr regarding protection of the frontier and formation of national forces and to have placed himself at the head of a procession in Munich to influence the Reichswehr and police in favor of the dictatorship by his prestige and personality.

SITUATION IN GREECE SEVERE STORM COMING

Expected to Be Felt Along
Entire Atlantic Seaboard—
Heavy Snow Predicted

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Adjournment of the vote of confidence in the Greek National Assembly last night at the request of Premier Kafandaris, and apparently on the suggestion of M. Venizelos, makes it difficult to "size up" the situation in Greece, says a Reuters despatch from Athens.

Apparently, however, after hearing the report of Gen. Othonios on the spirit of the army, in the presence of Georges Roussos, M. Venizelos deemed it advisable to make a concession to the republican party by accepting Roussos' suggestion for proclamation of the downfall of the Glucksbuerg dynasty in the national assembly, subject to confirmation by a plebiscite.

This will lead, the correspondent continues to the resignation of Kafandaris and the assumption of the presidency by M. Roussos. (An Athens despatch to the Daily Express yesterday said the Kafandaris government had already fallen.)

The republican leaders are reluctant as to whether they will support a Roussos cabinet, and the conservatives as well as the Liberals do not seem favorable to it. The correspondent says the Roussos cabinet will perhaps be supported temporarily as a modus vivendi in order to gain time, but it does not seem to present a definite solution, and the situation continues intricate.

AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIMS STILL AT HOSPITAL

Leo Argonaut, alleged driver of the car which figured in an accident on the South Shore North Chatham boulevard last November which resulted in the death of three persons, is still confined to the Lowell Corporation hospital and will be there for some time to come.

The condition of Walter McDermott, who was injured in an accident on Westford street several weeks ago, is reported today at St. John's hospital as improving slowly.

Also noted in the condition of Thomas H. Corrie, superintendent of the press room of the Courier-Citizen company, who fell from the second floor of the Courier-Citizen plant to the bottom of the elevator well a week ago, and J. H. Tracey, member of the fire department who fell from a fire truck in Davis square several weeks ago.

THE MIDDLESEX NORTH

Agricultural Society Will Hold
Institute Meeting at Grace
Universalist Church

The Middlesex North Agricultural society's next institute meeting, the third of the present season—will be held Thursday afternoon, March 6, in Grace Universalist church, Princeton street.

The meeting will be opened for the discussion of agricultural problems of various kinds at 2:30 p. m., at which time James A. Tutin, sr., dean of professors at Phillips-Exeter academy and trustees of the New Hampshire State College of Agriculture, will give an interesting address on "Boys in Agriculture."

At 6 p. m., the regular coffee party supper regularly served in the past by members of Grace church, will be repeated, and all members and guests have been asked to stay and partake of the meal.

At 7:30 p. m. a trio from Boston will entertain with vocal selections. The entertainers will be Miss Priscilla Cox, vocalist; Miss Helen Lightwood, pianist; Prof. Haven Powers of the Belmont Powers School of Oratory, readings.

A cordial invitation has been extended by the agricultural society to all members and friends of this city and surrounding town to attend this March meeting and participate in the discussions. An effort is being made to make the day memorable both in attendance and entertainment.

Ladies of Grace church are to assist in serving the supper at nightfall.

Mr. George H. Upson, member of the society, will provide in the absence of Secretary Edward F. Dickinson, who, with Mrs. Dickinson, is spending the remainder of the winter at Palm Beach.

WRESTLING TOURNEY PLANNED AT Y. M. C. A.

Considerable interest is being manifested among the men of the Y.M.C.A. and of Battery B, in the coming wrestling exhibition to be put on in the Y.M.C.A. gym Wednesday evening, March 27th, under the supervision of Bob Johnson.

Some of the Battery B men are Tiger Russell, holder of the two titles in the 25th Division; the welter and middle weight, Kid Fournier, holder of the featherweight and lightweight titles; Kid Pierce, bantamweight champion; Jack Angelo, light-heavyweight champion of the 26th Division; Jack Orlando, heavyweight champion; Leo Sarison, light heavy-champion of Battery B and Liberty, feather middle-weight.

Of the Y team, there is Sarris, Christo, Loukos, Chakarean, Ganelias and Kid Roberts, middleweight champion of Lowell.

SMOKE TALK POSTPONED

The proposed smoke talk of Bishop Pelony Assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C., scheduled for tonight, has been postponed owing to illness in the family of Louis Watson, master of Cabot province, who was to be one of the principal speakers. The date of the affair will be announced by the officers soon.

Besides Mr. Watson, there will be another speaker in the person of William C. Proul, state deputy. The entertainment program will be in charge of John C. Haverly of Cambridge, a district deputy of the order and chairman of the board of principal assessors in the University city. The committee in charge of the fourth degree exemplification will hold a meeting in the rooms this evening.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Racial Differences Responsible for Assault—Liquor and Auto Law Breakers

Racial troubles was ascribed by Judge Bright in district court this morning as being responsible for assault and battery committed by Peter Munowski, when, it is alleged, he struck Paul Baranow over the head with a hammer on New Year's day last. Defendant was found guilty of the charge and sentenced to three months in the house of correction. He appealed.

In imposing sentence, the court said he thought defendant was a dangerous man. "We have had two murders recently," he said, "both of them committed for inexplicable motives. This affair may have terminated in the same way. This thing has got to be discouraged."

The incident which resulted in Munowski's appearance in court today, occurred in his home on New Year's day. Baranow was going past Munowski's room, he said, when the latter hailed him and, without saying a word, struck him over the eye with a hammer. He did not have any previous trouble with him, he added, and could not account for the man's sudden action in assaulting him. He had lived in the same tenement, downstairs, for several years, and was going upstairs to get to the telephone when the affair took place. Munowski was drunk, he said.

Mrs. Munowski told the court that Baranow, her husband and another man had been drinking that day. "You were all drinking, weren't you?" asked counsel for the defendant. "Sure," answered the witness. "You ought to know that we were. It was New Year's day."

Munowski denied that he used a hammer, saying that he took a piece of wood from behind the stove and hit Baranow with it when the latter talked light because he called him a "dirty Russian."

The court believed, however, that a hammer was the implement used and found defendant guilty.

OTHER CASES

Joseph C. Ross and George G. Cronin, both of Lawrence, who were arrested here early last January by Officer Conway, appeared on a charge of unlawfully using an automobile. Their attorneys, Joseph P. Donahue, asked for a continuance on the grounds that the young men have been indicted in Essex county, but the indictment has not yet been returned. Continuance was then granted until March 25.

Mrs. Ferreira pleaded guilty to illegally keeping liquor and paid a fine of $100.

William Shine of Marlboro, charged with drunkenness, was allowed to go on condition that he get out of town in five hours.

Joseph Dussault and Edward Zitrak both charged with drunkenness, were continued in $300 each until Saturday.

POSTAL MONEY ORDERS ISSUED HERE IN 1923 EXCEEDED $1,000,000

Money Orders Approximately $700,000 Were Cashied—Volume of Money Order Business Increases Year by Year—1923 Business Record for Postoffice

Over 110,000 postal money orders totalling more than one million dollars were issued at the local postoffice during the year 1923, and 65,000 money orders totalling approximately $700,000 were cashied here during the same period, according to figures made public by Postmaster Leslie today.

This is a record for the local postoffice, said the postmaster, but it is expected that 1924 will even exceed these figures. Year by year the volume of money order business increases as the people of the city realize the advantages of sending money by this method.

The greater part of the money order business, he continued, is in connection with purchases from mail order houses, while another large factor in the business is the fact that married men working out of town send money home to their families by money order.

The amount of money sent from Lowell to foreign countries during the year 1923 totalled $29,000, while orders totalling $4500 which originated in foreign countries were cashied at the local office. These figures, the postmaster said, speak for themselves. Foreign born residents of this city who have families in "the old country" utilize the money order bureau extensively in sending home their earnings for they have great faith in the government and trust it to guarantee safe delivery of their earnings to "the folks" when all other agencies fail.

LUDENDORFF, HITLER AND EIGHT OTHERS ON TRIAL AT MUNICH

Former Field Marshall and His Associates Arraigned for Part in Attempt to Overthrow German Government Last November

MUNICH, Bavaria, Feb. 26.—(By the Associated Press) The sanguinary events of last November became again a topic of intense public interest today with the opening of the trial of former Field Marshall Ludendorff and his nine associates for their parts in the attempt to overthrow the government.

While provisions for the press have been made in the military academy, where the trial is being held, the most important of the testimony will be taken behind closed doors and the public sittings are not expected to develop much in addition to the facts already published. The proceedings are expected to consume but a few days.

Aside from Ludendorff the defendants are: Adolf Hitler, leader of the Bavarian "Eisler"; former Police Chief Hoehner; Dr. Frick, ex-president of the Reichstag; and others.

Senate Oil Committee Examines Telegrams Sent to Fall and McLean

Any Telegrams Found to Be Relevant to Inquiry Will Be Made Public

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Presented with a sheet of telegrams sent from Washington to Albert I. Fall and Edward I. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post at Palm Beach, Fla., the senate oil committee suddenly went into executive session today to examine them.

In ordering the hearing room cleared, Chairman Lenroot said that any of the telegrams found to be relevant to the inquiry, would be read in public. The telegrams were presented by the divisional superintendents of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, and apparently numbered several score. Some of them contained hundreds of words.

McLean's Counsel Present
Willon J. Lambert, counsel for Mr. McLean, was present at the reopening of public hearings at the invitation of Senator Walsh, who had sought a conference with him. The purpose was not disclosed, but it was stated that the time for the examination of Mr. McLean by the committee still was undetermined.

FORECASTS 50 PER CENT INCREASE IN BUSINESS

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 26.—Forecasting an increase in business of 50 per cent in the coming year, which would bring the amount of commodities handled for farmers up to $10,000,000, Howard W. Solly, general manager of the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, in the annual meeting of the cooperative organization here today said that in the last year a total of 37,536 tons of commodities was distributed, the value of which was $1,515,505.

The territory served has expanded and the distributing system now embraces 457 shipping stations on New England railroads and in Delaware, serving a constituency of 12,000 farmer-members. Every farmer dealing with the exchange, Mr. Solly said, is without doubt or fear, a member of the exchange.

Commenting on the finances of the exchange, Mr. Solly stated that it started six years ago with nothing, and besides expenses of organization, suffered a deficit of $27,000 in 1920, but closed its books for 1923 with $28,000 surplus. Operating expenses have been cut, in the face of increased field representation.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the exchange tonight.

EXCEPTIONS OF GEORGE T. PERRY SUSTAINED

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—The full bench of the state supreme court today sustained the exceptions of George T. Perry, a Somerville attorney, who was convicted in March, 1922, of conspiracy to steal automobiles and of larceny. Perry had been sentenced to two years in the house of correction on the conspiracy charges and from two and one-half to three years in the state prison on the other charges.

The supreme court decision says that Judge John F. Brown of the superior court, erred in admitting testimony as to acts and sayings of certain defendants out of court. These defendants, indicted with Perry, pleaded guilty and testified for the state.

Perry was a witness for the state at the trials which resulted in the removals of District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk county and Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county.

TO DISCHARGE RAY CASS

U. S. Attorney Harris to Move for Release of Boston Man Held for Piracy

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—United States Attorney Robert O. Harris announced today that he would move before United States Commissioner Hayes tomorrow for the discharge of Ray Cass, under arrest on charges of piracy in connection with the attack made on the British run-ship schooner J. Scott Hankinson off Cape Ann last August. It is expected that Cass will be released on a warrant asking for his extradition to Nova Scotia.

Mr. Harris said that the reason for asking dismissal of the case was the fact that "the Canadian authorities are not assisting the United States by producing the captain and other witnesses."

Captain Arthur Moore and Harry Jarns, cook, were shot and wounded by men who boarded the Hankinson, as she was lying at anchor and raided the vessel. According to the captain, the pirates obtained little money, as he said he had banked the proceeds of his rum sales at Gloucester.

In his statement today, Mr. Harris said: "I am today in receipt of a letter from the attorney-general for Nova Scotia relative to the case of Ray Cass. This letter is in response to a letter written by me under date of Feb. 6, in which I informed him that I had secured authority for the incurring of expenses necessary to the attendance of the captain of the Hankinson and other members of the crew. As all the witnesses are citizens of and resident in Canada, this office could not effectively summon them and had to rely on the Canadian authorities to produce them."

I stated in my letter that I would appreciate his seeing that the witnesses necessary to make out the case of the United States were in attendance on the date of the hearing, Feb. 27, and that if they were not here on that date, I felt that the defendant should be discharged. This letter informs me that he intends to proceed with his request for extradition and makes no reference to my previous request. I am assuming that the witnesses will be present.

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

Pres. Coolidge Meets Sen. Curtis and Later Counsel for Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—During a truce in open hostilities, administration officials negotiated today for a settlement of the row over retention of Attorney General Daugherty in the cabinet.

Another succession of conferences, including a cabinet meeting, resulted in no surface development, but gave increasing indications that some definite decision might be announced in the near future.

White House officials insisted after the cabinet adjourned that the question of Mr. Daugherty's resignation had not come up for general discussion and neither the president, nor the attorney general had any statement to make.

Previously, however, the president had talked over the situation with Senator Curtis of Kansas, one of the republican senate leaders and later with Paul Howard of Cleveland, who acted as Mr. Daugherty's counsel during the impeachment proceedings a year ago.

Block Action on Resolution
Meantime, on the senate floor, the republican organization staved off consideration of the Wheeler resolution for an investigation of the department of justice. The purpose of the delay was not explained, but it has been apparent that republican senators are convinced there may be a development making further action by the senate unnecessary.

It was Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the party floor leader, and one of those who have told the president that Mr. Daugherty should retire, who objected to a request for unanimous consent for beginning the wheeler resolution on for debate. It was supported by Senator Moses of New Hampshire. Because of the memorial service to be held tomorrow for President Harding, action probably will go over until Thursday at least.

Will Hold Clinics at THE HIGH SCHOOL
The Lowell Tuberculosis council will be granted the use of a room at the high school on Saturday mornings for the purpose of continuing clinics for children which now are held in the Lowell Guild rooms in Dutton street. The size of the clinic has grown to such an extent that the present quarters are inadequate and upon request of W. N. Goodell, treasurer of the council, the school department will assign a room at the high school for this work.

The clinics are held under the supervision of Miss Nathalie E. Marshall, who is in charge of nutritional work for the council. Money secured from the sale of Christmas seals allows the continuance of these clinics, which are free and open to any under-nourished child. Proper treatment is suggested after examination. At the present time the attendance at the clinic numbers about 20 boys and girls.

GIFT TAX PLACED IN REVENUE BILL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—A gift tax was placed in the revenue bill today by the house. It would impose a graduated scale of rates, from one to 10 per cent, the minimum applying at amounts not in excess of $50,000.

The vote was 191 to 65, democrats voting also solidly for the amendment which was proposed by Chairman Green, of the ways and means committee.

MRS. GILSON STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF IMMIGRATION QUESTION

Speaker in Addressing Members of Lowell Guild Says Immigration Means More to Nation Than Does the Tax Reduction Plan or Bonus Measure

"The immigration question means more to us as a people and more to the United States as a nation, than does the tax reduction plan or the bonus measure," stated Mrs. Claude V. Gilson in the third lecture of her series on current events before the Lowell Guild members in Middlesex hall, this morning.

"As you know, there are more than 40 proposals before congress at present to do over the immigration bill. The immigration commission is doing nothing in the way of discussing the matter. Albert Johnson, representative from the state of Washington, has caused quite a stir by presenting his bill for consideration which would regulate the immigration quota on a 3 per cent basis on the census of 1910.

The present immigration law expires in June of this year and whether or not the Johnson bill with amendments will be passed is unknown.

"Another bill is before congress providing for a 2 per cent basis on the census of 1920. Under this bill, if enacted, immigration will be reduced considerably, the minimum quota per year being 400.

"A bill is before congress providing for the issuance of a certificate of registration at the embarking point which will be good for two months, a sort of insurance as it were, providing for the acceptance of the immigrant upon arrival in this country, whether or not the quota is filled. This is a great step forward and will eliminate (Continued to Page 12)

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Six squads of detectives armed with rifles and shotguns sped to the southwestern city limits today in search of five bandits reported to have broken into the State Bank of Kingsman, in Grundy county and to have hauled away a safe containing more than $15,000.

The report of the robbery was given the Chicago police by Sheriff James Black of Grundy county, who said he had pursued the bandits several miles. The safe he said, is four feet high and weighs 2800 pounds.

FIRST DEGREE MURDER

Ex-Soldier Held Criminally Responsible for Death of Rev. Fr. Dahme

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 26.—Harold E. Israel, ex-soldier, was held criminally responsible for the death of Rev. Hubert Dahme, who was fatally shot on the street here Feb. 4, in a finding made public today by Coroner John J. Phelan.

The finding reviews the evidence against Israel adduced by police at the preliminary hearing following which he was bound over to the superior court without bonds, charging with first degree murder. The finding further states that the priest met his death from a gunshot wound, the shot being fired by Israel, "without motive, premeditation, or provocation of the deceased."

WOULD PUT REED'S SPEECH IN RECORD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Democratic Leader Robinson today objected to a request by Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, for printing in the Congressional Record, the speech which Senator Reed, democrat, of Missouri, made in St. Louis last night, attacking W. C. Cretshaw, then, upon Senator Moses attempted to read the speech into the record, Senator Robinson took him off his feet by demanding the regular order.

MICHAEL E. CARKILL DEAD

Well Known Lowell Man
Passed Away Last Night
After Brief Illness

Michael E. Carkill, a life long resident of this city, died last night at his home, 38 June street, aged 68 years. Mr. Carkill had been employed in the Hamilton Mfg. company for the past 47 years, serving the greater part of that time as overseer of the roll shop. Last Wednesday he was stricken with a sudden attack of indigestion and remained at home, returning to work Thursday. Again yesterday he was compelled to remain at home because of a similar attack and passed away shortly before midnight.

In the many years of his employment at the Hamilton mills, Mr. Carkill had made many friends, to whom the news of his death comes as a distinct shock as he appeared to be in the heat of health up to a few days ago. In the Centralville section of the city, where he had lived for many years, he was also well known and respected, and was an attendant of St. Michael's church.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Carkill, and two sisters, Katherine and Barbara. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

DEATHS

AYOTTE—Mrs. Virginia (Hennaux) Ayotte, widow of Joseph Ayotte, and a resident of Lowell for the past 24 years, died last evening at the home of her son, Alfred Ayotte, 125 Fayette street, aged 64 years. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Paradis, three sons, Arthur, Bruno and Alfred Ayotte, all of this city, three sisters, Mrs. Dominique Harvey, Mrs. Lamine Gagnon and Mrs. Xavier Verville, and two brothers, Philippe and Hubert Hennaux, all of Canada. The body was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Paradis, 329 Lawrence street, by funeral director Joseph Albert.

COUILLARD—F. Edwin Couillard died suddenly yesterday at his home, 34 Clark street, Dracut, aged 73 years, 4 months and 2 days. He is survived by his wife, Laura A. Meet Behind Closed Doors

In this connection, Senator Walsh, democratic, Montanan, announced today there was no present intention of introducing a bill to amend the act of 1911, but that he had been reporting that it was another "Mr. Hayes."

Not to Summon Hayes

In this connection, Senator Walsh, democratic, Montanan, announced today there was no present intention of introducing a bill to amend the act of 1911, but that he had been reporting that it was another "Mr. Hayes."

Senator Walsh also said he did not plan now to summon Atty. Gen. Daugherty for questioning as to his statement in his letter yesterday to Senator Willis, republican, Ohio, that he had died in the act of committing suicide. Chairman Leavitt said in any event, Mr. Daugherty would not be called until after expert accountants had finished their examination of brokers' books showing those transactions.

H. F. Taff, Washington superintendent for the Western Union Co., was called as the first witness when today's hearing began. Senator Walsh took the records of telegrams submitted by the witness while Senator Snoot, republican, Utah, read them over his associate's shoulders. Chairman Leavitt went into whispered conference that followed as the messages and then announced the decision to convene an executive session.

To Eliminate Irrelevant Messages

"The committee desires to find which of these messages are relevant," the chairman explained. "The others will be eliminated and those of importance in this inquiry will be read."

Thomas T. Dowd, manager of the Postal company, likewise produced some messages which were taken into the executive session.

The purpose of examining the telegrams was to determine whether any individual members of the committee or administrative officers had communication on the oil matter with Fall and McLean while they were at the Florida resort, or with the former secretary during his stay in New Orleans, just before he came to Washington, in response to the summons of the committee.

Later the committee will examine long distance telephone records for a similar purpose. Subpoenas for these records have been issued, but it will require a day or two to compile them for presentation.

After remaining behind closed doors for nearly two hours, the committee adjourned until tomorrow. It was explained that examination of the telegrams had not been completed.

Chairman Leavitt said some of the messages would be placed in the records at a public session tomorrow. Senator Adams, democratic, Colorado, said thus far the committee had found no telegrams sent by individual members to either Fall or McLean.

Admits Dealing in Oil Stock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The maneuver in the fight on Atty. Gen. Daugherty continued in the senate today while the oil committee pressed further in its effort to determine whether government officials or committee members communicated with Edward R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, or Albert H. Fall in the south between Dec. 20, 1923, and Jan. 20, 1924.

The committee opened its inquiry into the Fall-McLean incident yesterday with its examination of Mr. McLean's Washington bankers and C. H. Sisson Slenn, secretary to President Coolidge.

BLAME INFORMER FOR FRUITLESS RAIDS

Over a score of fruitless raids, made on warrants issued here by United States Commissioner Wallace, were conducted by federal agents in the vicinity of Greenfield and Lynn last week. This developed yesterday at the trial in Boston of George Granger of Lynn as did the fact that information on which the warrants were drawn were furnished by a professional informer, owing to the inability of the government to produce the informer, said to be Joseph Kaminski and in the employ of the Anti-Saloon League, the case before United States Commissioner Hayes yesterday was given a brief continuance.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The regular meeting of Princess Lodge, L.O.D., of St. George, was held last night in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, with President Susanah Watson in the chair. Considerable business was transacted and it was voted to transfer the lodge quarters to Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, the first meeting to be held there March 3d.

The twentieth anniversary of General Adelbert Ames Camp auxiliary was celebrated last night at a meeting in Memorial hall at which were present in addition to members of the auxiliary, members of Gen. Ames camp and several other veterans' organizations. At 6 o'clock an excellent chicken dinner was served, following which an informal program of addresses and entertainment was carried out. Many visitors were called upon to address the gathering and express their appreciation of the hospitality of the auxiliary and wished it great success in the future.

A regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames camp was held last night following the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the committee. Commander John P. McBride presided and considerable routine business was transacted.

MISS MURPHY HONORED

Miss Anastasia Murphy, of 54 White street, a popular telephone operator who is about to leave the city for College Point, L. TALKED ON QUESTION OF OUR FOOD SUPPLY

"Millions of dollars were lost the past season, both by the producers and the dealers in perishable foodstuffs because of a slump in the market price of goods," stated Mr. Elton F. Briggs, executive officer of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, at Colonial hall yesterday afternoon in his address on "The Great Question of Our Food Supply," before the members of the Middlesex Women's club.

Mr. Briggs, a member with 12 years' experience in the exchange, is a most interesting speaker and in his talk yesterday afternoon he brought out many facts which although they are not considered by the buying public, have much to do in the bringing of the foodstuffs to cities and towns.

"We often hear of various exchanges," said Mr. Briggs, "such as the poultry exchange, the fruit exchanges and other individual corporations, but we members of the Boston Fruit and Produce exchange combine all those individual markets into one big corporation. We middlemen, although not universally looked upon by the buying public, handle millions of tons of perishable produce daily. There is enormous effort to bind the fact that your food is supplied to you for consumption three times, and sometimes more per day. It is the duty of the middlemen to supply your foods in season and out of season and to do this satisfactorily."

"When one thinks of our work is done in the dark. That is not the case. Our work is government inspected and directed. The markets, especially during the pre-holiday seasons, are simply unlivable for the men. We must see that you get your turkeys, your vegetables, in fact nearly all your goods, perfectly fresh and in good season."

"People are under the impression that the eggs, the butter, the vegetables and even the pork are supplied by cutting sections of New England. This is, unfortunately, not the case. Your eggs are for the most part brought from California. Your meats from Texas and your poultry, especially turkeys, from Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin. We must see that you get these goods, and must see to their unpacking and distribution."

"From the figures recently given out by the department of agriculture, New England produces poultry and poultry products enough to last us but six weeks; lamb, one day; pork one week; beef, a fraction of a day; vegetables, from six to eight weeks and apples in such enormous quantities that there are no markets left for exporting. You often think that butter is produced in New England; it is not. The amount of butter consumed is so great that the production cannot equal it and it therefore is brought to you from various sections of the country."

"We in Boston handle 5000 cases of eggs, 250,000 pounds of butter, 175,000 pounds of poultry, and 4000 hogs daily. And there are positively not New England farm products."

"The one great need today is New England production. The one trouble of the New England farmer is that he does not grade his stuff. He still keeps to the old way of putting quality on top and rot in the bottom. A day is coming when the top layer will speak for the entire contents of the crate and that day is not far away."

"During the war the United States had the best fed army on the field. Our boys, with the exception of excessively stressed occasions, always had the best of food and the freshest."

"The risk in bringing perishable food to you is very great and I believe that at present a law is before the legislature providing for a shorter route from producer to consumer. Something must be done to keep this mass of humanity furnished with proper foodstuffs."

"A most interesting method in the distribution of foodstuffs is the use of the auction method. A corporation with its center in Pittsburgh has leased wires that connect directly with 25 cities. At the time of shipping, the various cities sending out carloads telegraph the contents of their cars, the quality and quantity of their produce to the Pittsburgh office. These goods have been inspected by a United States government official and are labeled. A stenographer puts this information in cart-logs and at selling time, buyers with these forms before them know just what they are to get. A telegraph operator quotes the prices offered by the different cities and the highest bidder gets the carload."

"Everything is being done to facilitate the shipping of perishable produce, but the great need is the farmer and his produce. The city grows nine times as fast as the country and we must have help from the country. The country grows grub and the city eats it. Back to the country, I say, back to the farms the one and only source of production."

URGES SWEEPING "DRY" INQUIRY IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—An investigation of the shooting of Senator Frank L. Greene of Vermont during a battle between prohibition agents and alleged bootleggers is proposed in a resolution introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Edwards of New Jersey. The investigation would be made by the senate judiciary committee.

The resolution provides further for a searching investigation into the operation of the entire national prohibition department of the government. The shooting which resulted in the serious injury of Senator Greene, Senator Edwards declared in this resolution, "marked the culmination of a long series of domineering, arbitrary, criminally reckless and brutal acts on the part of the representatives of the national prohibition department."

Senator Edwards asked that his resolution be on the table, and gave notice that he would address the senate on it Wednesday.

While the senate may adopt a resolution for an inquiry into the shooting of Senator Greene, it was predicted by "dry" senators last night that the resolution would never be adopted in the form presented by Senator Edwards. The preamble criticizes the prohibition enforcement unit would have to be cut out, they indicated. Senator Willis of Ohio took this position, as did others.

The resolution is expected to lead to considerable debate in the senate. Senator Edwards, who as governor of New Jersey declared that he proposed to make that state as "wet as the Atlantic Ocean," will strongly urge its adoption, and other senators who

Japan is bidding for trans-Pacific shipments of goods via the colored poster method advertising Japanese-built-and-owned steamship lines "is ready to provide prompt and direct service from American ports to the Orient."

A strikingly designed poster, about four feet long and 18 inches wide, now hanging in the display room of the Lowell chamber of commerce headquarters, contains a curious drawing of maple leaves, blue islands and what looks to be orange-colored ocean water. A large curved mass decorated with weird figures tops the Japanese shipping advertising placard, giving it the true "Jap touch" and showing peculiarly attractive Japanese advertising literature of modern times.

The impressive poster is printed wholly in English, however, and is a clever and well-executed piece of the printer's art from top to bottom, with display type modern and neatly distributed to catch the eye. The rainbow colors used in effective offsetting and the diversity of exotic color shadings, lines and strips are made in such a way by the delineating artist that full harmonious results are obtained notwithstanding the somewhat spectacular splashing effect as a whole.

The advertising matter comes to Lowell chamber of commerce with the gracious condescension of the high general manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamship line—a powerful Pacific traffic-carrying organization with 120 vessels of 600,000 gross tons burden.

The Nippon line is now running charter vessels directly from Japanese ports to all North and South American ports, and also to ports in Australia and Indo-China. The sailings from Yokohama are almost daily.

The Nippon would, of course, be grateful for any shipments of goods from Lowell, good sir.

The remarkable jump upward and the increase of Japanese shipping on the waters of the Pacific has been giving American shipping interests, as well as American industries, something to think about for many moons.

The fact that the Japanese are on the road to monopolizing the shipping routes between American ports and the Orient, shows how alert the Japs are today, with an advanced knowledge from the house of island exclusiveness and cramped trading confines to the length and breadth of the wide world in an apparent effort to capture at least the cream of the world's trade as well as the popular trading channels.

have not been pleased with the manner in which prohibition has been enforced, or has failed to be enforced, will give their support to the resolution.

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, chairman of the committee on judiciary, said that if the resolution should be adopted an investigation of the enforcement of prohibition all over the United States would be "an unending task."

Some senators take the position that the senate would not be so effective in an investigation of the shooting of Senator Greene as would the district attorney's office, charged already with that duty.

REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The house took up the proposal to insert a gift tax provision in the revenue bill today, with democrats and the republican insurgents confident of repeating their success of yesterday, when they brought about increases in the estate or inheritance taxes.

Chairman Green of the ways and means committee, who introduced the gift tax proposal yesterday, announced later that he would offer an amendment to make the rates the same as carried for the estate tax and Representative Garner, Texas, leader of the democratic tax fight, said he would support the new proposal.

Mr. Green's first gift tax amendment provided for a one per cent tax on amounts of all gifts in excess of $10,000 annually, with a graduated scale up to 10 per cent on amounts of gifts in excess of $40,000 annually, while the estate tax rates adopted yesterday provide for a one per cent tax on amounts in excess of $50,000 with a graduated scale up to 10 per cent on amounts in excess of $100,000.

The same exemptions allowed under the estate tax would apply to the gift tax, under the amendment, with charitable gifts also exempted, and the total gifts made by one person in a year, rather than to each gift separately.

With the estate tax section, next in order after disposal of the gifts amendments, Representative Longworth, republican, floor leader, said he hoped for a final vote on the measure by Friday.

GEORGE R. CHESTER,
AUTHOR, DEAD

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—George Randolph Chester, author and playwright, died early today.

Mr. Chester left his Ohio home at an early age and engaged in various occupations. Beginning newspaper work as a reporter on the Detroit News he rose to become one of the nation's most popular writers of fiction. "Black-White-Quick" Wallingford and "Black-White-Quick" were two of his most famous fictional characters. He wrote a number of books and plays in collaboration with his wife, Lillian Chester. Mr. Chester was 55 years old.

Mr. Chester and his wife worked late last night on the new story. Shortly after midnight, he complained of pains in his chest, and Mrs. Chester applied hot towels. But the hot applications failed to relieve him and he took a hot bath and retired, joking with Mrs. Chester about his pains.

Shortly before 5 o'clock this morning Mr. Chester sat up in his bed, spoke to his wife and fell back upon his pillow. His wife did not think him dead, and attempted to revive him. Calling the apartment house, James Schultz and he summoned an ambulance.

Mr. Chester died of a heart attack.

VETERAN INDIANS
STAND CONVICTED

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—Joseph Beauvais, eighty years old and Angus Montaner, seventy, Indians from the Iroquois reservation at Caughnawaga, convicted of stealing a historical wampum belt from the Iroquois tribe, lost their case when they appealed to a higher court.

According to Iroquois tradition, the belt was given to the Iroquois by the Hurons in 1667, and that the existing treaty between the two tribes should not be broken. Connoisseurs place the value of the belt of wampum at from $20,000 to $25,000.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Marion L. Hodgman, a former resident of this city, and now in New Bedford, was on Thursday afternoon united in marriage to Mr. Philip E. Taber of the latter city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. S. Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church of New Bedford, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Ruth Hodgman and Mr. James Bradshaw attended the couple. The bride wore a gown of brown satin with hat to match and carried Ward roses. The bridesmaid wore brown tulle gown with hat to match. Following the ceremony an informal reception was tendered the couple after which they left on an extended honeymoon trip.

Callan-Henney
Rev. John J. Callan, rector of St. Andrew's church, Wellesley, and Miss Mary Henney were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at St. Margaret's rectory, Rev. Charles J. Gallagher, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Quinn, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple. Upon their return from an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Henney will make their home in Twombly avenue, North Billerica.

Cote-LaFortune
Mr. William Cote and Miss Helene LaFortune, two well known residents of Pawtucketville, were united in bonds of marriage yesterday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock at St. Jeanne D'Arc's church. Rev. Joseph A. Gratton, O.M.I., officiated. Mr. Stanislas LaFortune and Mr. Maxime Cote, fathers of the bride and bridegroom respectively attended the couple. The bride wore a gown of tan chiffon with hat to match and carried white roses. Following the ceremony a reception and breakfast were tendered the couple at the home of the bride's parents in Abbot street. After an extended trip to Washington, D.C. and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cote will make their home at 20 Crawford street.

APPEAL OF RUSSIAN
DESPERADO DENIED

HARBIN, Manchuria, Feb. 26.—(By the Associated Press) A Chinese court today denied the appeal of Alexis Korniloff, Russian desperado, and confirmed the death sentence passed last November. Korniloff was the first white man ever sentenced to death in a Chinese court.

Fears that Korniloff would attempt to escape or that his friends would try to rescue him, caused the authorities to take extra precautions when he was brought into court today. He was chained hand and foot.

The court informed the defendant that his only recourse was an appeal to the senate at Peking. This appeal must be made within 10 days.

Korniloff was convicted of escaping from the courtroom during a previous trial, slaying a Chinese constable and two secret service agents and attempting the murder of two other police officials.

Bronchitis
Best Treated
With Vapors

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

If a cold has been neglected and has gone down into the chest, producing acute bronchitis, thoroughly rub the skin over the throat and chest with hot, wet towels to open the pores. Then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

For hours after Vicks is applied the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc., are inhaled directly into the infected air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Being externally applied, Vicks is especially good for children and is used by millions of mothers to prevent or relieve cold troubles.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2. and get the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or warm syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it's faster, good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heats the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HUSBAND IS DETAINED

Singer Prefers Russia and Rags With Husband to Affluence Without Him

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Russia and rags with her husband is preferable to America and affluence without him, Mme. Yere Lacrovia, Russian singer, declared today. She was told she could enter the United States as an artist, but that her war-maimed and impoverished husband, Baron Royce Garrett, would be detained pending the report of a special board of inquiry.

The couple arrived yesterday on the Antonia of the Cunard line from South Africa, where the concert business barely enabled them to book third class passage to the United States.

Before the war, the name Royce Garrett was said to be synonymous in Russia with wealth, position and power. The baron claims to be a descendant from an English ancestor who went to Russia in the days of Peter the Great and was elevated to the nobility by that monarch. While fighting with the White army, he lost position, wealth and his left leg.

Mme. Lacrovia is the daughter of a great opera singer and a member of the first drama of 1905. She is young—in her early twenties, slight, and blonde. Her English is somewhat better than that of her husband. They are now at Ellis Island, although Mme. Lacrovia is at liberty to go where she pleases.

"We shall wait here," she said, "whatever we do, we shall do it together."

They are now being sold out, in order to make room for the new ones that will be here shortly, and to sell them quickly they will be marked at reductions of

OUR STREET RECONSTRUCTION

A traffic jam such as was witnessed around the Memorial Auditorium last Friday night, is but what may be expected on all similar occasions, unless strict regulations be made by the police to prevent the congestion. Such regulations will naturally prove inconvenient to many, but under present conditions they must be tolerated until relief of a different kind be provided.

As we have repeatedly stated, real relief can come only from the construction of a new street, a street of from 60 to 100 feet wide as proposed by the Planning Board. That would offer an outlet for the autos and doubtless also considerable parking space. The time will come when East Merrimack street will have to be widened; but the new street proposed over the Concord must come as the first step toward effective relief. Meantime the police will have to devise ways and means of handling the traffic so as to prevent a repetition of the congestion that was so provoking last Friday night. The down town streets were all laid out in a past age, before the automobile horn was heard in the land, and hence, as might be expected, they are too narrow and there are too many "blind" corners. New streets must be opened up so as to afford more freedom for traffic and many of the "blind" corners must be removed. In this process of reconstruction to meet present conditions, many streets must be widened and many new streets cut through congested districts to permit free access and avoid traffic jams and the danger of accidents resulting from the present crowded conditions.

It is particularly important that the new streets to be laid out, shall have none of the defects of the old and hence, so far as may be practicable, they should be wide, straight and parallel. These are the three essential conditions demanded by the needs of present day public travel in our public streets.

DIGGING OUR OWN GRAVES

Every lovers' quarrel, every spat between husband and wife, begins in the stew pot or the oven, says a celebrated English surgeon. Most of us have noticed a tendency to become irritable when our digestion is out of order.

The London surgeon even believes that character is considerably regulated by what goes into the stomach. He is reasoning along the same lines as in feeding raw meat to a prize-fighter to make him ferocious.

Sir William Osler once said: "For some reason the brain and the stomach have never been friends, and the cleverest men I know treat their stomach like dogs."

Charles E. Hecht, English food expert, says he studied great men of history and decided Osler was right.

Herbert Spencer, the philosopher, always ate a heavy dinner an hour before going to bed and never was able to figure out why he had insomnia and indigestion. Hecht thinks Spencer's gloom and cynicism were caused by his ignorance of the simplest rules of diet.

Napoleon, another dyspeptic, ate at irregular hours. He belted his meals. He forged. He was forever munching candy. Here was a brilliant man, intellectual enough to conquer nations after nation. Yet he couldn't master his appetite or exercise reason in regulating his diet.

Shakespeare's marvelous plays could never have been written by a dyspeptic. He ate carefully, sensibly and had excellent digestion.

A big insurance company claims that nearly half of the illnesses of its policyholders originate in indigestion. You recall the old saying, that most people dig their graves with their teeth.

Perhaps good cooks cause more indigestion than bad cooks, for tasty victuals entice people to over-eat. Most folks, when the stomach is upset, blame it on some particular thing they have eaten. As a rule, though, indigestion is caused by eating too much—or too fast, as is the tendency in this nervous, speed-crazed age when everyone imagines he is in a hurry.

An old country doctor says it is a good rule always to go away from the table a bit hungry. The stomach easily can be the gateway to the cemetery.

Proper mastication is the first process, proper digestion next. The body requires varied elements for nutrition and chemical ingredients usually contained in vegetables in addition to plenty of water to enable the wonderful human laboratory involved in the work of digestion to function properly.

In the last year Americans ate more meat than ever before, according to the packers' national organization.

Medical examiners for insurance companies accordingly will be instructed to watch more closely for high blood pressure.

The secret of sensible diet is moderation. Common sense in such matters consists in adopting the golden mean of moderation midway between too little and too much.

PATRIOTS DAY

It was in 1919 that April 19, Patriots day, fell upon a Saturday with the following Sunday being Easter, and so it will be this year. Inasmuch as the Saturday before Easter is a great trading day for the stores, the merchants in a few Massachusetts cities in 1919, decided to keep open on Saturday and observe the holiday on the following Monday. They discovered, however, that the people generally observed the holiday on Saturday, having done their trading on the previous day. It is well for the merchants everywhere to do the same. The observance of Patriots day cannot be postponed successfully and should not be for any commercial reasons. The anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord and the first battle of the Civil war, when two Lowell men became the protagonists of that conflict, arouses the enthusiasm of the people of Lowell, so that they will not for any reason postpone the observance. This holiday has, therefore, a double significance for the people of Lowell; and it was also a Lowell man, the late Governor Greenhalgh, who suggested that the holiday be so named. There will be no postponement of the observance here, nor do we believe any will be attempted anywhere.

SEEN AND HEARD

Talk isn't cheap when congress does the talking.

A dog show held in New York recently was a very snappy affair.

London prisoners must shave daily, so what is the advantage of being in jail there?

A man gets soaked by the boot-leggers and gets soaked on the booze and still the Judge soaks him.

In Ashland, Neb., a poor old man of 79 sloped with a woman lawyer, but maybe he doesn't like to talk much anyway.

A Thought

Dean of 'Em All

"Come over here and meet Mr. Smith," said a friend, "this is the great Russian expert." "What is a Russian expert?" we asked. "Well, he went to Russia and came back alive," explained the friend.—Kansas City Star.

A Gallant Courier

A Frenchman was courting an English girl. Her mother said, mischievously: "Now, monieur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?" With great presence of mind, he replied: "I would save madame, and I would perish with mademoiselle!"—London Daily News.

How Absent-Minded!

He was always kicking. One day his wife took him to a restaurant and he immediately proceeded to embarrass her by washing the silver. It was clean, as she assured him, but he washed the knife, fork and spoon in his glass of water. "What is the matter?" he announced loudly. "A minute later he drank the water!"—Old Bits (London).

Somebody Forgot His Cue!

It was a sleepy sort of day, the class was about half the usual size and the "Prof" was calling the roll in a half-absent manner. To each name someone had answered "here" until the name of Smith was called. Silence reigned for a moment until he was broken by the instructor's voice. "My word! Haven't Mr. Smith any friends here?"—Humbug.

Too Good to Sell

A matter-of-fact father of an embryo poet handed some of the lad's efforts to a distinguished author of verse, and asked for his opinion. "Well, what's the answer?" queried the father after the author had glanced through the copy. "Alas!" sighed the real poet, "those things are so good, I'm afraid you'll have to support Homer the rest of his life!"—Writers' Monthly.

No Maiden Name for Her

A colored mammy came into the office of the estate, for which she worked, to receive her monthly wages. As she could not write, she always made a cross on the receipt. But on this occasion she made a circle. "What's the matter, 'Linda'?" the man in charge asked. "Why don't you make a cross as usual?" "Why," Linda explained correctly. "Ah done got married yesterday an' changed mah name!"—Dry Goods Economist.

Most Valuable Cow

The noted Chicago lawyer, Emory Morris, attended a banquet of stock-breeders in the old Leland hotel some 30 years ago. Called upon to speak, he said: "Gentlemen, I have listened with great interest to the merits and good qualities of the Jersey, Holstein and other breeds of cattle, but as an attorney for railroads I can assure you the most valuable and highest-priced animal in the world is the off-spring of an ordinary cow crossed by a locomotive."

Capitalizing a Misfortune

A clerk in a retail clothing store stayed out so late at night that he felt compelled to sneak home during slow hours. Being a relative of a member of the firm was all that saved him from being fired. The manager, becoming exasperated, enlisted the aid of one of his assistants. The next day, the lethargic clerk found himself in the pajama department. On the counter before him was a sign which read: "Our pajamas are of such superior quality that even the man who sells them can't keep awake!"—Printers' Ink Monthly.

The Way of the Gods

Sat no sail by future "reckoning." Let no dream delay your hand. Every hour the gods are tracing "Sewer" puzzles in the sand. And, with every wave, they whisper:—"Make a start from where you stand!"

Stay not harried for the rising of a tower, brighter sun. Board your anchor on the instant. That your tide begins to run. Take your course and hold it bravely. "This," the gods deny to none!

But beware of over-crowding. Trim your skirts to meet a slack. Wise is he who sails with caution—Learn to luff and bears to tack. For the gods most often foul you. When the wind is at your back!—By LOWE W. WREN.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The bird store windows are always gayer when springtime approaches than any other time. If it isn't plain mongrel mutt dogs on display, it is a new brand or two of fox terriers, canaries, parrots, parakeets or even goldfish. And then the choice food displays! There's everything for all animals and also members of the winged world, from remedies for dogs and cats to washing tanks for canaries and also "song seed" which makes "em sing. A very colorful business—the distribution of dogs, cats and birds.

Radio "ad" columns in newspapers and magazines are beginning to fill up with second-hand radio set advertisements nowadays. Just like the second-hand automobile columns in the newspapers, every day—perhaps we should call them used cars—after a while owners want something new or none at all, and from now on, we suppose, it will be possible to pick up a good radio set for half price or less, just as one can purchase a good automobile today at the same cost-minus ratio, if you are careful when you are buying and know real values from the standpoint of an experienced automobile owner.

Company C members are splendid entertainers, from captain down to high privates. When they hold an entertainment in Highland club rooms, it is something real, something earnest, something worth attending, like that social last Friday evening in celebration of Washington's birthday. The military organization of the infantry line is not so old in useful years as some of the veteran state guard troops in other quarters of the state armory on Westford street, but it has made a name for itself in active training, fraternal spirit and real American grit of the breed needed nowadays to carry on under the good old Stars and Stripes when the nation calls her sons into action.

In connection with the local historical society's aspirations, it may not be out of place to mention that the trustees of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, which meets regularly at the Harrison Gray Otis house, No. 2 Lynde street, Boston, is planning to secure new and larger quarters for the preservation of the society's surplus of historical material. We are told that the gifts and relics are already beginning to crowd the Otis house and the society is now anxious to arrive at a working agreement with the Shriley-Bustin house association, as a result of which it may acquire the use of two or three rooms to be fitted up for the New England's society's collection.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Rita Allen of Whitney street reached the age of three whole years last Sunday afternoon and a party was given for her in honor of the event at the home of Miss Katherine Kenney in Salem street. Many of the little girl's friends were there and three or four of them, Claire Donovan, Elizabeth Kenney, Mary Hassett and Mary Quigley, took part in an entertainment program of music and dancing. There were pretty gifts of the sort desired by a child of three and dainty refreshments added to the pleasure of the afternoon.

JAPAN WOULD RESENT PASSAGE OF BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Passage of the Immigration restriction bill now in committee in the house with the clause barring all peoples ineligible for citizenship, would be "resented by Japan as a gratuitous act of unfriendly character," George W. Wickersham, former attorney general declared in a letter addressed to members of the senate and house.

Writing as chairman of the national committee on American-Japanese relations, Mr. Wickersham's letter which was made public today, says the bill would do away with the "gentlemen's agreement" between the United States and Japan. If this is the end sought by congress, he suggests it should be approached through the state department. "Responsible Japanese have repeatedly declared," he asserts, "that if the gentlemen's agreement is not satisfactory the Japanese will gladly reconsider the whole matter and make some new arrangement."

Declaring the Japanese government has administered "agreement with 'careful fidelity,'" Mr. Wickersham cites immigration bureau figures that from the time it went into effect, in 1903, up to 1923, adult Japanese males who had left the United States, including Hawaii, exceeded by 22,737 those who had entered. The figures, he added, showed an increase in immigration to continental United States during the period of 1861, consisting of women and children.

SEN. GREENE SHOWS STEADY PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Senator Greene of Vermont, maintained today his slow but steady progress toward recovery. His attendants, who saw only a slight chance for him to live for a time after the extent of the bullet wound in his head had been determined, were hopeful today that he would soon be out of danger.

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing gets rid of indigestion quicker than Bismarck Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fat-minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy and upset with after-eating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble, neither could nor pity him, but help him by going that he has a supply of Bismarck Magnesia (either powder or tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder or two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach that are causing his trouble and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bismarck Magnesia is the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion—do not confuse with Milk, Carbamide, Black or Citrate of Magnesia. Insist on Bismarck. Its action is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.—ADV.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

I'm covered with countless contusions,
I'm bruised and I'm battered and hurt.
Where facts have bumped into illusions
And knocked me about in the dirt.
Yet, 'spite of these countless collisions
In which, to the realist's view,
The facts get the best of the visions,
I go on believing them true.

I've suffered a deal of deceiving,
I've had my faith often betrayed,
And yet I will go on believing,
My faith remains still unafraid.
And though I seem blind and mistaken
To those whom realities rule,
I hold to my visions unshaken,
I'll go right on being a fool!

By cold, heavy fact I am battered,
By ugly, material things,
But somehow my soul is unshattered,
My spirit still flies upon wings.
Though life and its wounds set me grieving
And put my illusions to flight,
I still shall go right on believing,
And know in my heart I am right.

ROUTLAND, Vt., Feb. 26.—T. G. Hart, of Rutland, a milk peddler, and his sister, Mrs. Edward Leonard of Churand, an adjacent farming community, have become joint heirs to the $1,000,000 estate of their aunt, Mrs. Ellen M. Wilson, of Sacramento, Calif., through a decision of the California supreme court. It was learned last night.

only son, who died without issue, causing the property to revert to her blood. For three years the case has been in the California courts. A year ago the son's widow sought to gain the money and land, but the court decided against her. Other claimants attempted to hold the estate as community property, prolonging the litigation until Saturday, when Mr. Hart and Mrs. Leonard were informed of the court's decision. The nucleus of the fortune was formed by Mrs. Wilson and her husband in 1848, when they went west with the "forty-niners" intent upon striking "pay dirt" in California. Mr. Wilson died, but his wife, a shrewd Yankee, increased the property to its present proportions. Sun want ads bring results.

Why Are So Many People Buying Lowell Coke?

Have you noticed all of the yellow wagons and trucks delivering Lowell Coke in all parts of the city?

If you have, you have perhaps wondered why you see them so often.

The answer is simple. More people are buying Lowell Coke at the present time than ever in the history of this company.

The large pile of 8000 tons which we had stored in our yard in School street is rapidly disappearing.

As people learn that

gives as much, if not more, heat than coal, has very little, if any ash, is light to handle, and is so much cheaper than coal, they are keeping the telephone wires busy placing their orders.

The fact that we are giving sixty bushels to the ton has appealed to people with a saving sense. That is at least ten bushels more than is delivered of any other solid fuel.

Lowell Coke can be handled easily by any member of the family, including children's, and it will not burn or destroy the fire box or the grate.

HELD WINNING TICKETS IN AUTO DRAWING

Charles W. Holmes, of 153 Varnum avenue, Frederick D. Crowe, of 22 Auburn street, and C. B. Hart, of Pleasant street, Concord, Mass., were announced as the winners of the automobile sedan, the Studebaker touring and the Ford sedan, respectively, at the grand drawing in K. of C. hall last night for the three machines offered by the Lowell Knights of Columbus in the contest conducted during the past several months. The names of the lucky winners were drawn from a large barrel containing more than 100,000 tickets with the following three judges presiding: Robert H. Dudley of the G. C. Prince Co., Albert W. David of the United States Cartridge Co., and Frank E. McLean of the Lowell Sunday Telegram.

The drawing was witnessed by a gathering of about 1000 persons who looked on with bated breath as the cards containing the names of the winners were lifted from the multitude of "stubs" in the barrel. Mr. Holmes, the winner of the Studebaker, is a well known manufacturer of this city, while Mr. Crowe, the Studebaker winner, is a popular tinsmith. Mr. Holmes is now visiting in Florida. His winning ticket cost him one cent. Mr. Crowe's ticket bore a two-cent label, and Mr. Hart's eight cents. As no one in the hall last night knew Mr. Hart, the name of Mark J. Flaherty, 115 Willow street, Jamaica Plain, was drawn as alternate.

Previous to the drawing, Lecturer Edward F. Slattery presented several entertainers, including Raymond Kelley, Horatius Leggat, John T. Baxter, Thomas Dowd, George Sullivan and Fred Cummings, William F. Thornton, chairman of the automobile committee, spoke briefly in explanation of the holding of the contest in K. of C. hall instead of the Memorial Auditorium as originally planned. He said that the trustees of the Auditorium deemed it inadvisable to conduct the affair in the memorial building because it would set a precedent that other organizations might wish to follow.

AUTOS CRASH IN BILLERICA

Two automobiles, a Dodge van and a Ford touring car, met in collision on the highway hill-top near the plant of the North Billerica manufacturing, yesterday afternoon. Both machines were badly damaged on front ends and put out of commission. Hugh P. Leonard of Lowell, was driver of the Ford. A Boston manufacturing concern owns the van, which was driven by Joseph Plather. The men were not injured.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION MEETING

Addressing the members of Lowell Christian Endeavor union last evening, in Chelmsford Street Baptist church, Rev. Harold F. Carr, pastor of Pawtucket Congregational church and principal speaker, gave a summary of many fundamental rules and principles necessary for adoption when endeavoring to lead a Christian life. He gave also a list of the proper requisites for maintaining that sort of life and mentioned some of the pitfalls that lie in the path of those who struggle forward in attainment of the Christian life.

An excellent supper was served by the C. E. society at 6:30 o'clock. Many delegates from church C. E. societies of the city at large were present for the feast and after-dinner exercises. Mrs. H. H. Hilton was in general charge. Before Pastor Carr's address, departmental meetings were held and a good citizenship conference conducted, with James P. Ramsey, superior court probation officer, delivering a short address. Music was given during the social hour.

At 8 o'clock, President Amos Fleming of the union, opened the business meeting and Fred Taylor led the song service in the absence of Edwin Wells, regular leader. Russell Coleman, president of Chelmsford Street society, brought greetings; Frank Spooner, treasurer of the union, reported, and Second Vice-President Fred Wilcox read the scriptures.

Roll-call showed 230 persons in attendance, representing all societies in Lowell and neighboring towns. First Presbyterian church had the largest representation and received the attendance banner for the month's record.

The young women of the Altruistic class, who served as waiters for the supper, included Mrs. H. H. Hilton, teacher; Misses Helen Zollinger, Gertrude Zollinger, Grace Randall, Aldreth Lee, Pearl Simeet, Mahel Fraser, Myrtle Rogerson, Elva Welsh, Winifred Wright, Esther Beardsley, Lillian Marshall, Gertrude Leggett, Blanche Hilton and Dorothy Simeet. They were assisted by Allan Fraser, Carl Hilton, William Ratcliffe, Mrs. Alden Matthews and Rev. Arthur B. Clarke, pastor of the church. The church decorations were of red, white and blue.

"I would never have believed any medicine on earth could help me like Tanlac did," is the precise statement of Mrs. Celia Fleming, 1915 Addison St., Berkeley, Cal., a practical nurse of sixteen years' experience.

"In 1903 a serious operation weakened my system so I never saw a real well day until I took Tanlac three years ago. I never seemed to be hungry, my stomach was so disordered I could scarcely retain a thing I ate."

and I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I was very anemic, and shattered nerves and sleepless nights contributed even more to my already miserable state.

"Tanlac built up my appetite and digestion wonderfully, and every single ailment went away. Then, with returning strength came a 32-pound increase in weight, and from that day three years ago my health has been splendid. I recommend Tanlac to many of my patients, for it is indeed a remarkable medicine."

uses is not apt to occur. Do not on any account neglect a slight cold, nasal discharge of any unusual condition.

Any nasal or throat infection affects the passages and mucous membranes to such an extent that it often becomes chronic and in many people almost defies curative treatment. The pusgerms caused by nasal sinus infection, particularly in children, frequently lead to bad cases of bronchitis, heart disease and Bright's disease.

Neglecting to treat such slight attacks at once, may also lead to much greater disturbances in the accessory sinuses of the skull.

Not only does this neglect produce the disease condition mentioned, but proper nasal growth in children is often retarded to such an extent that the nasal passages are never sufficiently developed. In such cases the nasal passages in adult life are sometimes no more developed than those of a small child.

Such a condition produces a great defect in facial growth and expression. Sometimes the nose itself becomes twisted to one side by muscular efforts to breathe properly.

NASAL OBSTRUCTIONS

Careless habits of dressing during the rapid changes of weather in February and March will often lead to temporary conditions of nasal or sinus troubles.

If not promptly attended to, it often leads to serious nose and head complications.

The bones of the nasal cavities contain four pairs of air spaces, which act as communicating tubes or canals with the nasal passages. Often through very slight causes or simple attacks of invading germs the mucous membranes of the passages become inflamed and infected.

If these nasal attacks are carefully attended to the infection of the sin-

Butlers Even Up Series With Cadets — New Bedford and Lowell Poloists in Second Game

BUTLERS DEFEAT CADETS 14 TO 13 AND EVEN UP BIG SERIES

Large and Enthusiastic Crowd on Hand for Second Battle of Series—Game One of Most Thrilling of the Entire Season—Hurricane Third Period

Butlers 14, Cadets 13.

With but one point separating victor and vanquished the Butler A. M. I. basketball team defeated the Cadets before a large and enthusiastic crowd in Crescent rink last night and now the great series even with each team having one victory to its credit.

The game was fast and furious, replete with thrills, strenuous play, spectacular shots, and some remarkable defense. It was a real battle, from whistle to whistle with the winner in doubt right up until the final second of play. The last period particularly unexciting and thrilling situations and the spectacular play found rooters for both outfits in a frenzy.

The teams went into the final battle with the Cadets leading 6 to 5. Butler held the lead from the beginning of the game. They were prepared to fight to maintain the advantage. The Cadets were determined to change the picture. In the first half the Butler's defense was so good that the Cadets were unable to play even one of their own. Every time they came into the key, they were met by a Butler defender. Finally the Cadets fought their way into a tie. Then a basket by Capt. Dan O'Connor, his first of the night, gave the Cadets the lead. Time was flying and the two point margin looked good. But here the Butlers rallied and fought back like tigers. With but two minutes to go a Butler basket again knocked the lead from the Cadets.

Pandemonium swept the hall. The supporters of both teams pleaded for a basket that would break the deadlock and win the game with both teams to accomplish the task. The going became strenuous. There were two fouls on the Cadets at the time. With less than a minute to go a third foul was called against the Cadets. A point and the game. It was a great finish. The scores that followed convinced all that it was absolutely no place for a nervous man.

Butlers defeated the Cadets in the matter of baskets they outscored their rivals. They scored six from the floor, while the Cadets registered five. In fouls, nine were called on the Butlers and five on the Cadets. The rather low score was due principally to the strong defensive game put up by both teams. Johnny Randall and Red Mullin of the Butlers were the stars in the blocking department. Randall held the fast working McKinstry to a lone basket and equalized matters by landing a "bean" himself. Mullin, in an even-tempered fight, outlasted an even-tempered McKinstry, scoring a basket.

Red Kenney and John "Peck" O'Connor were the defensive stars of the Cadets. Peck, who had been out of the game for some time, came through with a pair of fine shots. Red did likewise, and honors here were about even. All the other players did their share in the matter of fouls.

Several clashes added zest to the game. Dan O'Connor and Red Mullin engaged in a one round bout, while Red Kenney and Shamus O'Brien also had a little brush. In the other players and Referee Billy Wilson, who were all in the game.

ARE PREPARING TO MEET LAWRENCE

Lowell high track team is busy in the annex these days endeavoring to throw off the funk that accompanied it in the Huntington games in Boston last week. Coach Haggerty will keep the boys at it all week in preparation for the feature meet with Lawrence here next Saturday night.

In view of the fact that Capt. Bailey, who suffered injuries to his arm and leg in Boston may not be in shape to go against Lawrence, Lowell's chances of a big score are somewhat lessened. The locals should easily defeat the downriver men, however, as the other members of the squad are in good condition. The meet will be refereed by Ray Shepard, Phillips Anderson (track coach), Larry Shields, former U. of P. star, will be one of the officials.

There are still about two tickets for the meet available. They may be had on sale tomorrow in the main office of the high school.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE BOYLE-FRUZZETTI BOUT

Lowell and New Bedford Ready for Second Clash in Big Series

Fans are displaying great interest in the coming bout between Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Jimmy Fruzetti of Brockton, set for next Thursday night. Twice before the pair were virtually matched, but something happened, and the boys have yet to come together.

Now that the pair have come to terms and signed continuously awaiting the sound of the bell that will start them over the ten round journey. There is considerable speculation over the outcome. Fruzetti has appeared here twice, boxing Billy Murphy and Tansy Norton. In both showed real class. He gave Murphy the best battle of his career here, and while the Lowell boy won the award, he knew that he was in a fight. In the last round of that hectic battle Fruzetti caught Murphy with a right in the jaw that all but toppled him.

In his bout with Norton the Brocktonian also showed good hitting ability and scored with a number of stinging rights to the body. He's a tricky performer and must be watched all the time. Boyle, however, who is now fighting and hitting harder than ever, is not worried over the reputed heavy hitting of Fruzetti. He feels that he cannot hit any harder than Quill, and Phinney stood up under Quill's attack and managed to force him to back away. And when Boyle finally scored a knockout victory over Quill, the skeptics in that Phinney could do a little hitting himself.

It looks like a good number between two fairly ringmen, with abundant action all the way.

Brown After Kid Roy

Newport Johnny Brown, who has fought several sensational battles in Lowell, and in his last two battles here won over Rocky Roche and Al Shubert, would like nothing better than to get Leo Kid Roy in the same ring with him.

Chick Hayes, the manager of Brown, says that he would like to hear from Rocky's manager in regard to such a match, and says that Johnny has plenty of backing that he can beat the Canadian featherweight champion.

Brown's next battle will be with Johnny Teece, the New Rochelle, N. Y., lightweight. They will meet in a 12-round bout at the Norwalk Sporting club of Norwalk, Conn., Friday night, Feb. 29. Brown is boxing twice at 133 lbs., for he is looking a good deal better than he did when he fought Teece, since he defeated Chick Suggs in Portland.

LOCAL Y'S CLUB IS AWARDED TROPHY

Having led all the Y's Men's clubs of the state in attendance at Boston midwinter meetings the club of the local association was awarded a hampered brass trophy last night. A. D. Grant, club president, received the prize at the meeting in the Boston City club.

Rev. H. F. Hayes, a member of the Lynn club who shortly to come here as pastor of the First Universalist church, was presented a watch charm at the dinner by the Lynn club. Albert H. Fairbanks, governor of the Massachusetts Y's Men's Clubs was principal speaker.

Those attending from Lowell besides President Grant were Vice President J. Harold Scott, Secretary Joseph W. Hollingsworth, Treasurer Anna Hart, Carleton Miliken, Carleton Gardner, Charles Ellis, Norman E. Farnum, Harold P. Howe, Arthur F. Fenn, Roy J. Dunbar, Robert Oates, Leon Abbott, N. D. Harrison, Ryan, Oscar Grant, Edwin McCool, Otmar Field and Harry Keeshaw.

SETS NEW MARK IN POTATO RACE HERE

The association record for the 160-yard potato race was set by the locals at the Y.M.C.A. when Arthur Bathin clipped two seconds off the old mark and turned the time to 2.5 seconds. Nicholas Panopoulos on the standing broad jump with a leap of four feet seven inches, Fred Vail with five feet nine, won the fence vault.

In the potato race George Kargos was second and Charles Gaudin third. George Shence and Fred Chas. took the fence vault. Arthur Bathin, while Charles Gaudin, George Kargos and Nicholas Panopoulos, who all did five seven, tied for show and place in the fence vault.

POLO GAME TONIGHT

Lowell and New Bedford Ready for Second Clash in Big Series

With large numbers from Lawrence and Woburn as well as a delegation from Lowell Typographical Union, winners of tickets donated by Manager Hart at the Printers' banquet on Sunday, prepared to take in tonight's polo game between the Lowell and New Bedford teams at the Crescent rink, another banner crowd is expected to be on hand when the referee sounds his whistle.

The opening game on the holiday night attracted a great crowd and all were impressed with the speed and accuracy displayed by the rival athletes, particularly when they considered that it was the first game of the season for most of the players.

Lowell took the jump the other night and despite a bitter fight on the part of the invaders, the lead obtained until the end. Kid Williams was in old time form for Lowell and he turned in a high class exhibition. He had a great eye for the openings and made seven halfways in the course of play.

Bill Duggan, who heads the visiting combination, was shut out and he is hot under the collar. He declared after the game that he would immediately go into intensive training to play an improved game. He looks for a better game, but he would get back at the kid tonight. It was a rather humiliating experience for "Wild Bill" to be held scoreless, one that he didn't enjoy at all, and he is prepared to regain his lost laurels this evening.

Manager Hart, however, feels confident of Lowell winning the series and logically declares that while he expects New Bedford to show better form tonight, he also counts on Lowell displaying an improvement. He looks for a bitter struggle, but will be disappointed if Lowell is not on the long end when the final reckoning comes.

The teams will lineup as in the previous game. Lowell will have Williams as quarterback, and John Duggan, Morrison, halfback and Jettie goal. New Bedford will present Duggan and Wiley on the rush line, Brown at center, Hardy, halfback and Blount, goal. The game will start at 8.15.

AMATEUR POLO

The Flats polo quintet will play the Tylers at the Crescent rink tonight before the series game. Lineups:

Flats: Morrison Jr., O'Connor, Barry 2r, Shimmers, "Kid" Lehto (Capt.), Hines, Buckley, hb., and Tully.

Tylers: Burke, g., and Tully.

CHILEAN BOXER ACCEPTS RICKARD'S OFFER

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Cable advices from South America, indicating that Quintin Rojas, the Chilean, has accepted Tex Rickard's proffered opportunity to follow the path cut by Luis Firpo to a championship bout with Jack Dempsey, have been received here.

Firpo, it appears, following the apparent collapse of negotiations by a syndicate to match him with Harry Wills and the statement by Rickard that he will abandon efforts to match the Wild Bull and Dempsey, if Romero Rojas comes through, will spend the winter here in the United States, according to William McCarney, his American representative. The Argentine has been invited to meet Jack Dempsey at Cleveland; Fred Fulton at St. Paul and George Godfrey at Philadelphia.

Other bouts are in prospect at Chicago, New Orleans, Toronto, Canada, Kansas, Miami, and Louisville.

Harry Wills, kick boxer, who has been seeking a Dempsey match for two years, has been able to secure an opportunity to achieve it by the failure of the plans for his elimination battle with Firpo, is not being considered prominently in the new alignment.

EVERS IN CHARGE OF THE CHICAGO WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—John J. Evers, chief aid to Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago Americans, will be in charge of the White Sox during the team when it leaves Friday morning for Winterhaven, Fla., to begin spring training. Evers arrived here yesterday from his home in Troy, N. Y., and is conferring with President Comiskey and Secretary Harry Grabner of the team. Evers and Catcher Ray Schalk, will coach the advance team. Later Ed Walsh, Eddie Collins and Harry Hooper will become members of the training camp faculty. Manager Chance, who is reported greatly improved in health at his home in Los Angeles, is expected to join the team about March 15.

Secretary Grabner leaves for Florida today to make advance arrangements for hotel accommodations in Winterhaven.

Indian Pitchers Train

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 25.—The Cleveland Indians pitchers and catchers who so far have devoted their time to machine gunning and playing golf at Hot Springs, will begin tossing the ball Saturday if the weather permits, according to advance received here today. That will give them a week's workout before they start for the spring training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

Slater Hopes to Play

MUSKIEG, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Main Press) The first spring practice of the St. Louis Browns yesterday, and also kept George Slater from appearing in a baseball uniform for the first time in more than a year.

Slater, who moved to Mobile from Laguna Beach, Calif., announced that he is in best of health and that he will take his place in the infield and try for a comeback. He expressed confidence in his ability to play the game as a first sacker.

Slater said that he has not determined anything definite about taking up the duties of a pitcher. Slater has had trouble with his eye for about a year.

Trainer Jimmy Austin of the Browns is much more confident about the comeback of Slater than the famous ball player himself.

Slater will be just as good as he was prior to the illness which caused his temporary retirement. Out on the Pacific coast he took part in light ball games and baseball and the "game" stuff was there. "I don't want to be too sanguine, but if I am any judge of a man's condition, Slater will be back in the running again this year."

Jimmy Slattery Wins Over Stribling

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The decision of Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, over Young Stribling in a local bout, caused a great deal of excitement in the city. Slattery, a youth of powerful frame, apparently faltered in the combat towards the close.

His opponent, permitted the Buffalo boy to lead almost constantly and did his effective punching in counter, a fact which naturally weighed heavily against him in the thinking of the officials. Slattery, last night, stood up against the adverse body punching he has ever encountered, in fashion that amazed his friends. The crowd was the largest that ever attended a boxing match here.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 25.—Forty-five survivors of the qualifying rounds, entered today in the match play of the annual spring golf tournament of the Hot Springs Golf and Country club, which is being held at the Hot Springs. He came through the qualification round yesterday with a card of 83, two strokes behind the medalist, J. Bour, of the Calumet club, Chicago. While the local players with the club and iron was well established, he was defeated the runner-up position when Emerson Carey of Hutchinson, Kas., finished in 88. Ruth was paired today with S. Peffer, whose card yesterday was 98.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

After having earned a reputation as the greatest moving picture actress in the world with her portrayals of girlish parts, Mary Pickford stands and charms audiences at the Strand theatre yesterday with her vivid acting of the little role of the film play, "Rosita." As "Rosita," Mary no longer appeals to the hearts of the audiences by her childishness, but portrays a character of one who has grown up out of childhood and is mature.

Ever since the cinema was in its infancy, Mary Pickford has been classed as one of the best of its many stars, having gained that title by her portrayals of girls in the "pig-tails" and "gingham gown" stage. Many feared that her title would be lost if ever she attempted to portray the character of a mature woman, but these fears have been banished by her splendid work in the character role of this play, "Rosita."

Assisting "Our Mary" in her first grown-up endeavor are Holbrook Blinn, Irene Rich, George Walsh, and numerous other equally well known stars. The story of "Rosita" is good, the directing of the picture is excellent, and the scenery is correct in every detail.

"Rosita" is a street singer in Spain, wandering through the streets of cities where carnivals are being held, she sings and plays her guitar, collecting pennies enough to support her father and mother, two brothers and a sister. The king rules with an iron hand but has a very evident weakness for female puerility. In Toledo a carnival is in progress and "Rosita," playing her guitar and singing the popular street songs of the day, holds the attention of a large crowd. Before she can take up her collection, however, the king appears and "Rosita's" crowd and likewise her collection vanishes. She then sings a song belittling the king and is arrested and thrown into prison. The king has seen her, however, and orders her brought before him. He showers her with gifts, but she repulses his advances. A handsome young nobleman falls in love with her and wins her favor by his manly endeavors. The development of this romance with its climax in the marriage of Countess Rosita and Count Don Diego, furnishes thrills galore and gives the actors splendid opportunities to show their dramatic ability.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
In many vaudeville houses throughout the country patrons are told in one way or another that the order of acts on a program does not necessarily have any bearing upon their worth. The same may well be said of the present review of this week's show at B. F. Keith's theatre, which has in it three or four acts that stand approximately upon the same plane. The entire program is exceptionally fine, well varied and filled with good things from beginning to end.

Just to make a start we will begin with Miss Helen Stover, soprano, presented by May Tully. Possessed of a beautiful voice of rare sweetness, Miss Stover adds to its charm of manner and personality in full measure and the result is unqualified success. She has enjoyed excellent training and has had a great deal of experience in operatic and recital work. "Kiss in the Dark" and "Lindy Love" are two of her best numbers, but for real worth one turns to the "Vol to supple" aria from Cavalleria. Rustiana, which she sang last night with capital effect.

Billy Glason is another kind of entertainer, but in his specialty just as effective. He is a ceaseless talker and skips from one thing to another with amazing speed and with the fun never pulled out to the limit. Much of his stuff is from the pen of Neal O'Hara, well known newspaper humorist and syndicate writer. His songs are good, too, and brand new. George Alexander, he of the polished dome, is another splendid humorist in his presentation of a comedy playlet called "The Failure." He is assisted by Grace Bishop and Larry Williams. There is a well defined story told by the skit and while it is comedy, Alexander puts not a little seriousness into it, too, although the audience never is allowed to settle too quietly in its chairs.

Laughter and chatter and a whole bag-full of wise sayings may be found in the act of Fred Jarvis and Freddie Harrison, labelled "Home Home." The pair are fine entertainers and well merited the sustained applause accorded them last evening.

Rose and Bunny Brill sing, dance and talk and dress effectively. The program says they are "Just Peaches" and we have no quarrel with that. The show is opened by Blinn and Grill, who present some marvelously clever bits of gymnastics and tumbling. With or without their apparatus they are good.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The greatest picture Swanson ever built is the way they style Gloria's latest production, "The Humming Bird," now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre. And the stylings are correct for "The Humming Bird" is without doubt the best offering of this popular film idol ever witnessed in a local theatre. It is a story of France bringing the audience back to the maddest of World War days and depicting with extreme realism the blood-soaked battle of the French Apaches, the bombardment of a Paris prison, the arrival of the doughboys and finally, the armistice.

Miss Swanson in the picturization of the great story, which is filmed from the play of the same name by Maude Fulton, portrays the difficult role of "Toilette," a habitue of the Parisian underworld, but with a heroine of the highest merit. From the character of "Toilette," she changes to the fascinating boy role of "The Humming Bird," a thorn in the side of the Paris police. As "Toilette," she is loved and respected by every Apache in France, one of the reasons being her incredible cleverness in eluding the authorities, who are leaving no stone unturned in their search for the mysterious "humming bird." In the exclusive Montmartre district, she pursues the valuable lives of a society woman while the chief of police is on the scene. Her escape is effected by a rapid change of costume and going to a church to play as a penitent while the police search the edifice in vain.

And then a man—an American—enters her life. She cares for him when he is wounded in a fight, and they become steadfast friends until the American's fiancée arrives. In the meantime, the war breaks out and "Toilette," in her disguise, is arrested and sent to prison, but when her place of seclusion is discovered, she escapes and goes to the home of the American who has been wounded in action. A happy reunion results. One may surmise that the current bill claiming just attention is Larry Sennett's comedy, "The Clown Shop," also "New England in Motion Pictures," the prize Boston Post picture, "Fun from the Press" and an International News reel.

RIALTO THEATRE

A fascinating Romeo is Tom Mix at the Rialto theatre in "Mile-A-Minute Romeo," his latest William Fox production which is now playing at the popular Rogers Square theatre. Shakespeare would undoubtedly be surprised to learn that profound love means one can be conveyed to an audience without the use of tumultuous sighs, heaving bosoms, lachrymal blandishments and hysterical gesticulation. Tom Mix as a lover is typical of his age. He is fast and furious, practical and electrical, a man of action finding his love and marrying her without much to do about nothing. Instead of going into a corner to howl the cruelty of fate and the vanity of man, and offering supplications to conciliate the deities and their disciples in his favor, Tom Mix roars "Bunk!"—and hops aboard his horse-flesh, locomotive Tony. With a bounce he is out in the thick of things, playing with Kismet, as if they were his consanguine brothers, teasing, tempting them, yet always keeping them, as if, to keep the figure, they had been his younger brothers, under complete servile submission. man of Mix's calibre, fate is a "Fate" something created for no other purpose than one's amusement. This is how he manages the unruly, sometimes rebellious fellows in "Mile-A-Minute Romeo." His name is Lucky Bill and he has had as his target more men than hearts. In adding a friend to clope with a beautiful girl he falls in love with the latter's choice. Later he finds that the particular girl is the "choice" of another fellow, making the aggregate number three. How each man contrives to eliminate his rival gives the director opportunity for starting some of the most comical, thrilling and ending scenes the screen has ever produced. The audience contemporary with the reviewer was very enthusiastic about the film. The cast in support of Tom Mix gives a very pleasant note of interpretive talent to the piece, Betty Jewel making a very magnificent leading lady for the popular star.

"A Wife's Romance," the added attraction, starring Clara Kimball Young, provides this star with a role that is typical of her. She is seen as the wife of the American consul at Madrid, who is loved by Ramon, who can be described in no better way than as the Robin Hood of Spain. He is a chivalrous, brave son of sunny Spain—a brigand to be sure—but beloved by the poor for his charities and feared by the rich for his daring.

A Bull Montana comedy and a Pathé News are also on the program, a program that will surely please everyone.

The Rialto management announces that for the latter half of the week, Harold Lloyd will be seen in "Safety Last," his greatest comedy and Franklin Parnum will appear in "Wolves of the Border."

We take pleasure in announcing what we believe to be one of the finest productions offered this season, "THE HUMMING BIRD." A brilliant, beautiful actress in a rare Parisian love story.

On the same program with "THE HUMMING BIRD," Larry Sennett in "The Clown Shop," Nell Buras in "Roll Along," News, and the third episode of the Boston Post prize story, "MERRIMACK PRICES."

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 23

Jack immediately pulled a match out of his pocket. "Gee," he shouted, "this is the only match I've got. It's lucky I had one, isn't it?" And then he struck the match, and almost as soon as it blazed, it puffed out. "Now what am I going to do?" shouted the little adventurer.

"Well, I'll tell you what you shouldn't do," snapped East Wind. "You should never carry matches. That's why I blew that match out. Just to teach you a lesson." Then he told Jack if he wanted to get dry and avoid a cold, just to run, fast as he could, over to a pile of rocks nearby.

Jack started to run, and Flip barked and ran after him. When they came to the rocks Jack discovered that East Wind was there ahead of him. And, in an instant, he also discovered that his clothes felt dry again. "Isn't that better than playing with matches?" asked East Wind. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"I'VE GOT A LETTER FOR YOU," SAID SILVER WINGS

One day the Fairy Queen sent Silver Wings, her messenger, to the meadow where Nancy and Nick, the Twins, were playing.

"Hello!" called Silver Wings, settling on a large, purple thistle and looking exactly like a beautiful butterfly.

"Hello!" shouted the Twins. "Who are you and where are you?"

"I'm me and I'm here!" called Silver Wings, shaking with laughter until the little purple thistle blossomed up and down like a bird-cage on a spring.

That attracted their attention, and the Twins flew over and landed down on the grass beside the thistle blossom, the better to talk to the little fairy.

"I've got a letter for you," said Silver Wings in a tiny voice. "It's from the Fairy Queen and I think you will like it. Twinkle-Pen, her secretary, told Nimble Toes, and Nimble Toes told me what was in it. But it is a surprise so I won't tell you until you read all about it. There!"

Nancy took the tiny piece of paper the fairy handed her and began to read out loud. She had no trouble whatever, my not for the writing was magic writing and anybody can read that, no matter how little it is, or how long the words:

"Dear Twins: The other night I was outside the nursery window when your mother was reading a story to you. It was called 'Jack and the Beanstalk,' the story was, and you both liked it so well, I heard you say that you wished you could go to Beanstalk Land.

"Now, if you really meant it, I am going to see that you get there. Look under the big stone by the chestnut-tree and you will find the famous magic green shoes that can take you any place you wish to go in Fairyland.

"Silver Wings has a magic bean, that came out of the same pod that Jack's did. Plant it any place at all, and instantly another magic beanstalk will grow to the sky.

"Jack's giant is not there, as you know. His sad fate taught all the other giants up there a lesson, so they all turned into jolly giants. And the giant children do the funniest things! I'm sure you will like the place.

"Lovingly,

"THE FAIRY QUEEN"

"Hurrah!" shouted both of the Twins, "Beanstalk Land!"

"Here's the bean," said Silver Wing, "and over yonder are your magic shoes. I must be going. Hope you have a nice time! Goodbye!"

And away she flew.
